RELATIVES MAY SEND MESSAGES TO PRISONERS

Relatives and friends of prisoners of war in the Philippines may send messages up to Dec. 15, according to a new release received at the local Red Cross office yesterday and announced today. This extends the deadline two weeks. It is pointed out that the messages must be sent through the Red Cross home service department.

Another release is to the effect that the Japanese government has reported arrival in Kobe, Japan, of Red Cross relief supplies for prisoners of war held by the Japanese. The supplies, valued at $1,500,000 have been stored at a Russian port for about a year. Included are 300,000 11-pound food packages, 2,661 cases of drugs and medical supplies, thousands of sets of clothing and pairs of shoes, shoe repair kits, toilet articles, a million cigarettes and cases of Y.M.C.A. books and religious and recreational supplies.

A delegate from the International Red Cross committee met the ship upon arrival to direct forwarding of the materials to allied prisoners, the report states. The delegate has been instructed to make every effort to see that supplies are sent to camps which did not receive their share of the previous shipments sent on the Gripsholm in 1942 and 1943.

A special exhibit on the latest developments and information regarding prisoners of war will be shown at the Red Cross open house on Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7, from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. at the county courthouse.

Closing time for Sunday Too Late to Classify 5:30 Saturday afternoon—Please remember.

CONSCIENCE PRODS ELDERLY SLAYER

St. Helens, Ore., Dec. 1—(U.P.)—Benjamin Franklin Malle 73-year-old murderer whose conscience caused him to confess a 39-year-old murder, today was awaiting receipt of a railroad ticket for his return to West Virginia, scene of the crime.

Malle has been living under the name of A. J. Prichard near this little town on the Columbia river below Portland. The case first developed last May when he waled into the sheriff's office at St. Helens, the county seat, and told Sheriff M. R. Calhoun that he is the man wanted for the West Virginia murder in 1905 of Walter O. Smith, a crippled school teacher who had punished Malle's son for a trivial offense.

High School News

By Student Reporters Margo Gammill Joan Hoppe

At a senior class business meeting held in the third period November 21, Mr. Leland A. Mentzer announced that the following girls would sell senior calling cards this year: Nancy Swem, Bonnie Parsons, June Williams and Regina Smith. Also he stated that senior announcements had already been purchased and he gave a brief description of them. During the meeting Jerry Liebman, editor of the Crater yearbook, had the seniors fill out activity records to be used in this year's annual.

The plea for additional workers at the local Red Cross was readily acknowledged by the sophomore class and five of the girls have volunteered to give some if not all of their free time to this worthy organization.

Girls doing this work are: Joan Sutter, Betty Blair, Marjorie Hammond, Katherine Hoppe and Madeline Ward. Madeline is in charge of the group.

Mrs. Bella Fromm, former Gorman columnist and author of the book, "Blood and Banquets," spoke to the students of Medford high school on November 27. She told of the rise of the Hitler youth organization and the tremendous problems American youth of today will have to cope with in future years because of this organization.

Medford Senior high school has been assigned a quota of $4000 to be raised during the Sixth War Loan drive. H.E.C.A., social studies honor club, will handle the applications for bonds. Adviser of the club is Mrs. J. F. Smith. Plans are now being made for a bond rally to be held next week to stimulate interest in the sale of war stamps and bonds among the students. Jeraldyn Jerome is the student in charge of sales.

Wednesday of this week, Principal Lester Harris, Coach Al Simpson and Miss Mabel Mansin were entertained at the local Kiwanis club luncheon. All were entertained by the girls' sextet which sang two numbers. Also Carl Winklebleck and Loree Montleth sang a duet. Members of the sextet are Barbara Meadows, Harriet Walker, Donna Davis, Gloria Preston, Jean Hickman and Loree Montleth.

USED TIRES OFF RATION TUESDAY

Chicago, Dec. 1—(U.P.)—The office of price administration announced today that used passenger car tires will be removed from rationing next Tuesday.

The tires are the residue of 6,800,000 tires purchased from motorists two years ago by the defense supplies corporation because of poor quality and spotty distribution, the decision to take them off rationing was made.

Used truck tires will continue under rationing, while grade 1 tires will now include factory seconds and tires of synthetic rubber.

Tires made ration free were grade 3.
