

War Pauses for Kids

A DUTCH CIVILIAN CARRIES two children out of the danger zone as a British tank stops alongside to give them some protection from flying bullets. Scene was in 's Hertogenbosch, where the British had to use their flame-thrower tanks to clear out the fiercely resisting Germans.

Your Health and Its Care

SO YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE A BABY? Too many young men take the attitude that a young woman's preparation for maternity is not a proper subject for the husband to be too concerned about.

First I offer a bit of advice to every young man who reads this column. Do you contemplate marriage or are you too wise to be so tied down? All right, you are not that kind. Well, then, do you intend to raise a family. God willing, while you both are young and fit and happy? Or is there enough of the rat in you, after all, to make you think it would be better to wait a year or two and have some fun or get the furniture, car or house paid for or get a lease with a clause in it before you have a baby?

You may, of course, get out of debt in a few years, you may even pay as you go and save a little besides. But don't kid yourself. That has little to do with happiness. I know, I was there. In the early days of practice more than once I had to go and hock my watch to stave off dire privation—but we were the richest people in town, for we had a baby. Despite the privations of our situation (and probably my shocking lack of business sagacity) we were young and fit and happy AND we had our baby.

Very well, you're a man, not a rat. You'll be happy if you have a baby, even if you haven't as fine clothes, furniture or front as many of the rats you know. Your first concern, then, is to have the finest baby you can, and accordingly it is up to you to learn everything there is to learn about prenatal care—study everything right along with your wife, go with her to the doctor for instruction and advice and as chosen head of the family see that prospective mother and child get the best of care from the very beginning—and this is a matter of intelligence, not of

SHE HAS A NICE FACE, TOO—When Helen Ragan journeyed from Ohio to bring back a thousand autographs for members of the Ohio chapter of the Bob Johnston fan club, she arrived at opportunity. A movie scout, interviewing the singer, thought Miss Ragan's limbs rated a Columbia screen test.

Sams Valley

Sams Valley, Dec. 19—Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Clark of Grants Pass spent the weekend here at the home of Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McDonough. Mrs. Eva Wilson and son Larry, and daughter, Alice, of Trall, spent Friday and Saturday here at the home of Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Sadie Frink. Other Saturday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schulz and family of this place.

Word has been received from Leo Libolt and Paul Galloway that they are at Avalon, Calif. Both boys are in the merchant marine. Ernest Sanderson is in Farragut, Idaho, in the navy. All three boys were called into the service from here this fall. Little Katie Williams of Gold Hill is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Messenger.
