WE REPAIR or apply any type of roof. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Dec. 24—(U.P.)—The needs for whole blood in the operating rooms of field hospitals and hospital ships have tripled, fleet headquarters revealed today, and San Diego and Portland may be asked to join San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles in providing enough to treat casualties in forthcoming Pacific operations.
Whole blood from volunteer donors is now regularly reaching the Philippines fighting fronts by the combined efforts of the naval air transport service, the troop carrier command, a joint army-marine transport organization, and the army's air transport command.
Navy doctors say that the availability of whole blood in sizeable quantities will result in a reduction of fatalities and have asked for a tripling of the present shipments to the advanced blood bank facility at Guam.
To meet increased requirements, the Red Cross donor centers were asked by the navy to obtain more volunteer donors. Officers hinted Portland and San Diego may even be called upon to help meet present requirements.
