ROBERT FORBES HAS VISIT WITH HARRY LAUDER

First Lt. Robert Forbes, former manager of Groceteria No. 2, recently wrote his wife, Mrs. Robert Forbes of 510 South Grape, of a visit to the home of Sir Harry Lauder, noted Scottish singer and entertainer who has made 22 tours of the United States.

Lt. Forbes wrote that a Red Cross girl took himself and three officers to Yorkshire to visit the famous singer. His house, wrote Lt. Forbes, is located atop a high hill and is made of stone, not unlike some houses in this country. He told of having tea and cakes with Lauder and of spending two hours visiting with him. Lauder called them by their nicknames and insisted on being called Sir Harry, Lt. Forbes, who is stationed in Scotland, wrote.

Lauder took them through the various rooms and showed them collections accumulated on his trips over the world. He could remember many things about homes of the boys who were his visitors and recalled Portland, Columbia River Gorge, Klamath Falls, Link River and other places of Oregon.

Lauder, while showing his collection of canes, picked one up and sang a couple of songs, Lt. Forbes wrote.

On the way home the Red Cross girl showed them the place where Rudolf Hess crashed on his escape from Germany, the letter said.
