

WAR WITH NIPPS UNTIL 1946 NOW ROOSEVELT VIEW

Washington, Jan. 6—(U.P.)—President Roosevelt made it clear today that he expects the war with Japan to continue into 1946 even if Germany should collapse this year.

In his annual message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt said 1945 could see the final ending of the nazi-fascist reign of terror in Europe but the best he could see in the Pacific was the closing of the forces of retribution about the center of the malignant power of Imperialistic Japan.

This is what Mr. Roosevelt reported to congress about military progress on world-wide fighting fronts and future prospects:

He expressed complete confidence in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's leadership of allied forces, and warned against "divisive propaganda"—all, he said, bearing the trademark "made in Germany"—designed to drive a wedge between the allies. He said "we shall resume the attack and—despite temporary setbacks here or there—we shall continue the attack relentlessly until Germany is defeated."

He said the Italian campaign was pinning down "a substantial portion of the German army... including some 20 first-line German divisions and the necessary supply and transport and replacement troops."

Corcoran, Calif., Jan. 6—(U.P.)—Cold and hunger prompted four German prisoners of war, who escaped from the Corcoran prisoner of war camp Thursday, to surrender today to W. J. Bensburg, a rancher.

ROUND-UP DATES SET; CHANCE FOR STATE FAIR EBBS

Portland, Ore., Jan. 6—(U.P.)—Chances for a state fair at Salem this year are slim, according to Director of Agriculture E. L. Peterson, but other fairs will be held in Oregon this year, the Oregon Fairs association announced today at its annual meeting.

Dates for the colorful Pendleton round-up have been set for September 13-15. The Pacific International Livestock Exposition will hold its annual 4-H club exhibition October 10-12, although its grounds are being used by the federal government.

Many county fair dates are tentative, with some holding no program and others only junior fairs, it was pointed out by the association's fair date committee.

Peterson told the association meeting that a celebration in times like these might not be appropriate.

Herman H. Chindgren, president of the association for 17 years, said that Oregon's fairs will face a tough financial problem because of the ban on horse racing.

RURAL SPEED IS ACCIDENT CAUSE

Salem, Ore., Jan. 6—(U.P.)—Excessive highway speed was blamed by Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., as the probable reason why 71 per cent of traffic fatalities during November, 1944, occurred in rural areas.

Farrell disclosed that Oregon traffic fatalities for the first 11 months of 1944 showed an increase of three per cent over the same period in 1943. Only eight per cent of Pacific highway drivers held their speed below the 35-mile wartime limit, he said.
