DARK HORSE COPS TUCSON TOURNEY; NELSON IN MONEY

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles shot wizard, today boasted a new competitive course record of a sizzling six under par 64 fourth round which won the $5,000 72-hole Tucson open golf tournament.

The California dark horse, out of the running until he jumped to a three-way second place tie at 64 holes, moved into the next winter tourney at San Antonio, Tex., next Friday as a favorite.

Nelson Close
Close behind him in yesterday's closing nine was Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., leading golf money-maker last year and winner of last week's Phoenix, Ariz., open. Nelson needed a birdie on the last hole to tie Mangrum.

He drove out of bounds, and the chip shot which would have given him the birdie missed the hole by half a foot. He had to take a fifth stroke to sink it.

Nelson, leader at the end of the third round with 202, put together two 67's, three under par, for the third and fourth rounds for a total of 269.

Mangrum's sensational 64 over the rolling El Rio Country Club course came after a 68 in the morning. A crowd of 3,500 followed both rounds.

Gaunt Third
Jimmy Gaunt, Ardmore, Okla., surprise, took third place with a total of 271, making a four under par 68 in his fourth round. Mangrum collected $1,333.33 in war bonds—maturity value. Nelson's take for second place was $933.33 and Gaunt received $745 in bonds.

Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., leader at the halfway mark with 134, took fourth prize money of $600 with a 272. He had a 68 on his fourth round after a morning 70.

Tied for fifth with 273 were Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y., and pre-tournament favorite, Sam Sneed, White Sulphur Springs, Va.

Blackhawks Beat Toronto, 4 to 0

By United Press
The big news in the National league hockey race today was that the Chicago Blackhawks were back in their old form.

The last place Hawks defeated the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs 4 to 0, last night. Montreal defeated Detroit 6 to 3.

The Boston Bruins won 14 to 3 over the New York Rangers.

OREGON DOWNS COUGARS TO HOLD SECOND PLACE

Eugene, Ore., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The University of Oregon Web-foot had a firm grip on second place in the Pacific Coast conference northern division basketball race today, behind undefeated University of Washington, after beating the Washington State Cougars 64-48 Saturday night.

Oregon came back after losing the series opener Friday night, led by the 21-point shooting of forward Dick Wilkins. Cougar star Vince Hansen netted 14.

ARTURO GODOY PLANS RING COMEBACK TOUR

Santiago, Chile, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Heavyweight Boxer Arturo Godoy, who distinguished himself in 1940 by going 15 rounds before losing to World Champion Joe Louis in a title fight, will leave here by plane tomorrow for a comeback tour in the United States.

AL PICHE WRITES PARENTS OF HOOP TEAM IN ENGLAND

Athletic Specialist first class Al Piche, Jr. expects to be home from overseas duty with the navy some time in January, according to a letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Piche, 47 North Peach street. He wrote that he regretted not being able to come home for the Christmas holidays because his replacement had not yet arrived. Piche stated that a basketball team of which he was coach and player won 25 out of 26 games and that the team, now coached by a lieutenant who is a graduate of USC will enter a big ETO tournament in January.

Piche went on to say that his team has the full cooperation of the base commander, who promised he would have the team flown to Paris to play the best team in France if Piche can prove his squad is the best in the United Kingdom.

In a game against an officers' team Piche wrote that his team won 50 to 28 but had to finish the game with but four men because of so many personal fouls being called.

He wrote of his group putting on a smoker for soldiers who returned from France to recover from the effects of war. He said it gave him great satisfaction to be able to give those boys a few hours of enjoyment and something different.

In one of his letters Piche told of a game with an army station hospital team in which his team won 51 to 49. Thirty seconds were left to play and his team was one point behind when Piche grabbed the ball and dribbled down the floor but missed his shot when he was fouled. He made the first free throw but missed the second and the game ended in a tie. In an overtime period his team scored one field goal to win the contest. It was their 24th straight victory.

JOHNSON GIVEN CHANCE AT MASK

Gloomy Gust Johnson has been selected by Promoter Mack Lillard to face the Gray Mask in the main event of next Thursday night's wrestling program at Medford armory. Lillard said Johnson is the most logical man for the match because of his enviable record here.

Jack Kiser, coast light-heavy champion, will oppose Terrible Tony Ross in the semi-windup. This is a rematch, Ross losing the other encounter on a foul.

Ernie Piluso has been matched with Milt Olson in the three-round opener. Piluso demanded a match with the Mask, but Lillard said he would have to earn the shot since he was defeated in his last appearance here.

BAY MEADOWS MANAGER PREDICTS RACING SOON

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—William B. Kyne, general manager of the gigantic Bay Meadows race track, predicted today that the ban against horse racing would be lifted in the near future if track owners agree to go "all out" for war charities.

Kyne himself is going ahead with plans for reopening the Bay Meadows plant in March for a full spring season—on the assumption that the ban will be lifted when the war news is favorable.

OWI PROPAGANDA LEAFLETS SEEK NAZI SURRENDER

Washington, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The office of war information made public today samples of the allied propaganda leaflets being showered on German soldiers and civilians in an effort to drum home the message that continued resistance will bring only useless suffering.

"Frage Den Frontsoldaten—ask the front-line soldier," one leaflet says in asking German civilians whether it is possible "to resist an overwhelmingly superior enemy for any length of time."

"Die helmat ist zur front geworden (the home front has become the front)," another message tells soldiers. "Die helmat weiss; der kreig ist verloren! (The homeland knows the war is lost.)"

Some of the leaflets bear imprints of the signature of Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower and assure German troops of safe conduct through allied lines if they wish to surrender.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons recently that more than 70 per cent of the German prisoners taken in Europe had cried one or more of the certifiates.

Navy Will Submit Plans For Postwar Fleet To Congress

Washington, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The navy will submit to congress soon a series of recommendations for legislation which it believes will help voluntary recruitment of men for the postwar fleet from among capable reserve personnel now in service, it was learned today.

A member of the house naval affairs committee said the first of the navy's major proposals was expected before July 1. He said the maintenance of an adequate officer complement for the postwar navy was a matter of deep official concern and that experts were studying methods of supplementing the supply of naval academy graduates.

SIXTEEN INCHES SNOW AT IRRIGATION SOURCE

The winter storm which raged last week over the high Cascades deposited 16 inches of new snow at Fish Lake, main source of irrigation water supply for the Medford Irrigation district. Ed Judd, manager of the district, reported today. It was seven degrees below there this morning, with a clear sky.

Manager Judd said the storm left the snow depth practically the same as it was last year at this time. Other areas reported increased snow depth over the week-end.

SUPPLY CONVOYS FOR REDS EXPECTED SOON

Ankara, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The first Anglo-American convoys to enter the Aegean sea with war supplies for Russia were expected to arrive soon at the Dardanelles for passage through the Marinarra sea to the Black sea. It was believed these convoys would include large ships from Gibraltar and Suez with supplies for the Russian ports of Nikolaev, Kherson, Odessa, and Novorossisk.

MARRETT TRIAL OPENS TODAY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Trial of Fred Marrett and his wife, indicted for breaking and entering for the purpose of stealing drugs, started this morning in circuit court with Judge Crawford of Portland presiding. Selection of the jury and opening statements occupied most of the morning session. The trial is expected to be in the hands of the jury by tomorrow noon.

Dr. R. W. Clancy, former local physician, convicted of a narcotics charge in federal court, and now in McNeill's island prison, will not be able to attend as a state's witness. District Attorney George W. Neilson reported, the U. S. attorney-general's office would not grant permission.

The Marretts testified against Dr. Clancy at his trial here, and it was his office in the Medford Center building they entered last August 27, the indictment alleges.

The defendants are represented by Attorney George Coddling and the state by Deputy District Attorney Allison Moulton. The parents of Marrett were in court today. The father was conductor of the Southern Pacific passenger train held up by the D'Autremont brothers in the Siskiyou tunnel 22 years ago.

DAMAGES SOUGHT AGAINST MINERS

Suit for $9,500 damages against the Southern Oregon Mining Company, Ltd., has been filed in circuit court by Edwin H. Taylor and wife, Applegate district farmers. The complaint charges the mining company failed to comply with lease terms for use of ground for mining.

The complaint sets forth that in October 1940, a lease was signed providing that upon completion of mining the gravel and rock would be covered with top soil, and levelled, and excavations filled. The complaint charges this was not done and the ground is not now fit for agricultural purposes.

The plaintiffs represented by Attorney George M. Roberts seek judgment for $2000 as cost of replacing and repairing the soil, and $7,500 general damages.

BELGIANS FEAR FOR SAFETY OF LEOPOLD

Brussels, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Belgian authorities feared today for the health and safety of King Leopold, believed imprisoned in a medieval castle in central Germany under conditions of cruelty and isolation resembling that of the man in the iron mask.

The king, who has remained pro-allied despite his incarceration, is reported to be underfed and to have lost considerable weight.
