

RED CROSS UNIT PLANS PROGRAMS AT CAMP WHITE

Entertainment, movies and cleverly planned parties with refreshments have been enjoyed by the patients at Camp White for several weeks past through efforts of the camp and hospital committee and Gray Ladies corps of the local Red Cross.

Gray Ladies assist Miss Esther Burch, the lone Red Cross hospital worker at Station hospital five nights a week and seven afternoons. Mrs. O. A. Eden, a Gray Lady and also entertainment chairman for Jackson county camp and hospital committee, has scheduled local entertainers for stage shows, for some time, and recruits hostesses for parties often planned by Mrs. A. E. Brockway, head of the Gray Lady party committee.

The motor corps which transports the Junior hostesses, Gray Ladies, entertainers as well as musical instruments and food, also help with the social evenings.

Leather Work

Craft, painting and leather work under leadership of Mrs. Theo. Norby, a Gray Lady from Ashland, on Monday nights went on as usual during the stage program. Monday, Jan. 15, Mrs. Norby helped by Mrs. Eden, Mrs. Dean Falwell and Mrs. Oscar Silver and several amateur soldier patient cooks made hot ginger bread and coffee to top off the evening.

Wednesday afternoon the Grants Pass high school gave a one act play. That evening at a bingo party refreshments as well as beautiful prizes were donated by the Legion Auxillary. Mrs. Carol Parker, of the Legion Auxillary, Mrs. Rollin Hubbard and Shirley Weisenburger, assisted Mrs. Eden in games and serving.

Game Party

Thursday, Mrs. Brockway put on a lively game party assisted by Mrs. Lloyd and Junior hostesses from town.

This week's program was high-lighted by a concert Monday night by the SCU 1913 band. The craft shop hosts, Mrs. Norby was also on duty.

Refreshments from the Legion Auxillary, candy, fruit and cake, as gifts to hospital patients will be served at all the parties this week. The party Thursday will be conducted by Mrs. Marjorie Hopkins, recreation leader, assisted by Mrs. Falwell and the Junior hostesses. Movies are shown every Tuesday and Friday nights each week. Saturday and Sunday, open house nights are planned.

Daytimes, Gray Ladies help with craft, games, reading, writing, information and recreation, desk, shopping and working in wards. Mrs. Mark Wright, who has been conducting a craft class for the hospital recreation corps, is in charge of craft daytime program.

Entertainers Wanted

Any club or group of entertainers, singers, choirs or bands are asked to contact Mrs. O. A. Eden if they wish to offer their services to the Camp White hospital patients. Refreshments are also gladly received, especially home made cake and cookies for parties.

A few of the Medford musicians who have generously given entertainment in the past few weeks are Alexander's Hawaiian string band, Prentice accordion band, Medford high school carolers, individual entertainers as June Williams, Nancy Swem, Roger Hagstrom, Robert Fisher and Mrs. Botts as accompanist for community singing.

Chairmen of the two Red Cross committees which cooperate to bring about this recreation program are Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, who replaced Mrs. S. E. Phillips, recently resigned from camp and hospital committee chairmanship, and Mrs. Rawles Moore, head of Gray Lady corps.

Mrs. Eden, volunteer program director, assisting Miss Burch, represents both committees and is delegated to secure such entertainment as will build up the morale of convalescent soldiers, many of whom have recently returned from combat zones.

Gene Blackford Wounded In Arm

Gene R. Blackford, who was recently promoted to staff sergeant at an 8th air force bomber station in England, suffered a wound in the left arm December 31 according to a V-mail letter received by his aunt, Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 404 South Ivy street. The letter stated that he is able to be up and around and is doing nicely.

S/Sgt. Blackford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blackford, who reside in Chicago instead of Medford as was stated in an army dispatch published in the Mail Tribune Monday. He made his home with his aunt here for several years prior to entering the armed service.

Pvt. George McAvin Medical Assistant In Bomb Disasters

With U-S. Forces in Belgium—Personnel of the U. S. army's 350th medical section have proven themselves a valuable addition to the various groups engaged in flying bomb rescue operations in Belgium.

One of the most familiar sights at the scene of a flying bomb disaster is that of a group of British soldiers digging into debris, a helmeted Belgian air raid rescue worker and a U. S. army medic standing by with a litter and a white-capped Belgian nurse ready to assist. The medical section is on hand at every call, organized into first aid and litter teams to evacuate injured, both military and civilian, to the station's own dispensary.

Pvt. George S. McAvin, route 2, Medford, is a medical assistant with the group.

P.-T. A. Activities
Washington P.-T.A.
Dr. A. Erin Merkel, county health officer, spoke on nutrition at the last meeting of the Washington Parent-Teacher association held last Friday at the school, and showed a film put out by the British ministry of information dealing with vitamins in the wartime diet. Entertainment was furnished by the fifth and sixth grade chorus, directed by Miss York, who sang two numbers.

Mrs. Canode's room won the room prize for the largest attendance of parents, and mothers of children in Miss Gregory's and Mrs. Beeson's rooms served refreshments.

Sixty-three members were in attendance.
