World's Fastest Ambulance

The world's fastest ambulance—a P-38 with belly fuel tanks modified to carry personnel or cargo—is demonstrated at Seventh AAF headquarters, Pacific Ocean Area. The litter "patient" (above) is pushed into the container and the litter fastens on hooks inside the tank. The tank is locked in place when patient is secure. Below, a passenger, resting on mats, looks through the plexiglass nose. Tank is equipped with two portholes, airvents and set of earphones. A similar tank is fastened on other side of cockpit. Down to Last Chon Butcher Eugene Arnold unappily displays the last of his meat supply—a lonely chop—to disappointed Mrs. Louise Evans and her granddaughter, Jennifer Leppo. Three-fourths of San Francisco's markets were without meat to sell with many closing entirely and others curtailing sales hours as shortage continued unabated.

Jimmy Walker One Of Stars To Be At Merrick's Thursday

With Smiley Burnette in the Merrick's ballroom in Medford on Thursday, Jan. 25, will be the "best-dressed hillbilly in the business."

He's Jimmy Walker, who's as talented as he is good-looking and nattily-dressed. Jimmy is a bachelor, is said by one critic to "out-acuff Roy Acuff—he's that good." The lad can really put over a song in that same style that is so popular with western radio fans.

Jimmy will appear in a fancy outfit that includes boots with a color blend of light blue and tan that are the envy of most people who stare at them. You may not think you'd like them so well on yourself, but you'll like them on Jimmy. He does specialty acts in addition to singing with the band and playing a mighty fine guitar.
