KNOW THE GOLDEN RULE OF HYGIENE

Research workers, subsidized perhaps by commercial interests, from time to time report their observations that the air and various surfaces in a hospital ward or in a sick-room are contaminated by bacterial strains which are recognized as a frequent cause of serious acute respiratory infections. That is interesting in a scientific way. It does not satisfactorily explain epidemics or even casual instances of such infection.

Even without discounting the evidence to allow for the possible bias by subsidy—this bias tinges much modern medical science—I can't for the life of me comprehend why a hospital ward, a sickroom, a dentist's office, a surgical operating room or any other room should be equipped with gadgetry for ultra-violeting the atmosphere or for vaporizing or spraying with some newfangled germicide.

Attempts to disinfect the air or surfaces of furniture or bed-covers can have little if any influence on the spreading of respiratory infection. The virus or germ of the disease is present in the moisture spray given off from nose and mouth when the person with the disease coughs, sneezes or talks. Invisibly fine droplets of moisture, carrying the germs or virus, lodge upon the face, lips, nose or mouth of the victim who happens to be within spray range—unless a suitable mask is worn by one or both persons to prevent this happening.

Even if ultraviolet light or propylene glycol vapor in the air kills some bacteria, it is unlikely that the bacteria or virus in such moisture droplets can be so destroyed in the fraction of a second they are in the air.

Moreover there is no convincing evidence that respiratory infections (including pneumonia, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, pulmonary tuberculosis, epidemic meningitis, infantile paralysis, smallpox, influenza and other less serious diseases) or for that matter communicable disease of any kind, is air-borne. So far as we know all of these respiratory infections, particularly the so-called "diseases of childhood" (for childhood gets a bad break) are spread almost exclusively in mouth-spray droplets, and only rarely if at all through mere contact with surfaces contaminated by the germs or virus.

So we can no longer deceive ourselves or our neighbors about this. If we are honest about it, we must admit that it is a reprehensible offense for a person with any on-coming illness of this kind to associate with other persons unless he wears a mask—and lest you assume this does not apply to you let me explain that by any on-coming illness of this kind any indisposition you may wish to think or wish your associates to think is "just a little cold."

The golden rule of hygiene is: Wear a suitable mask if you will not remain isolated when you have any such illness.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Bed-Wetting.
How can I break my two-year-old son of bed-wetting? (Capt. C. L.)
Answer—First, keep it confidential—don't discuss it in the presence of the child and other people. Second, remember it is not abnormal and more or less insignificant in a child under three years of age. Third, the trick is to persuade the child, by patience, suitable rewards, and punishment, not to wet his bed. When he wets, send him to bed dry. When he wets, send him to bed dry. When he wets, send him to bed dry.

Thank you so much for your advice. I have followed your reducing diet for about three months and have reduced from a size 18 to size 16 dress. I never felt so much better and joy in living as I do now.

Answer—That, or something like it, should be expected, if the reducing regimen is sound. On request (written, not a clipping), I will send any reader over 18 years of age, who provides stamped self-addressed envelope, a request, the pamphlet "How to Lose Weight."

Humidity.
Use sprayer, vacuum, vacuum, spraying a fine water mist, to keep the indoor air humid. Do you recommend this? (Mrs. B. C.)

Answer—It doesn't sound economical. But I do recommend keeping the heated indoor air humidified. Methods are described in pamphlet on "Humidification" mailed on request. If you provide stamped self-addressed envelope.

The Crater Yearbook staff gave its annual assembly February 1, to launch ticket sales for the 1945 book. In charge of the program was Maxine McKinney, feature editor, and assisting her was Bill Hedrick, master of ceremonies.

Bob Boyer gave an exciting recitation of Kipling's "Gunga Din," dressed in a typical Afro-American costume, shorts, helmet, and carrying a gun. Carl Winkler put the audience in the "mood" with two songs, "Silver Wings in the Moonlight" and "Four and Twenty Blackbirds." Next came a comedy ballet cleverly done by Jo Anne Adler and Editor Jerry Lieberman.

Jerry Clark, a new discovery, sang two hit songs, "Accents at the Positive" and "Patty Cake Man." Jerry Warren took over from there with a ventriloquist act that had the assembly fairly rolling in the aisles.

Next came Phyllis Furry, pianist, accompanied by Carl Winkler on the drums, in an exciting new number, "Rendition of the Boogie."

Next came Delores Stenson, who sang two popular ballads, "I'm Making Believe" and "I Dream of You."

To close the assembly, Maestro Sydney Bouck's band gave a clever arrangement of "Down by the Old Mill Stream." This group had opened the program with the semi-classic number, "Donkey Serenade."

Technicians who gave their aid were Nat Bender, Vern Shangle, and Dick Moffatt, under the direction of Bill Patton, technician in charge. Adviser of the assembly was Miss Laura K. Phillips.

G. A. A. Council met January 30, with President Mildred Shellabarger, Vice-president Adrienne Leach, Secretary Ruby Graham and Treasurer Barbara Olsen. Purpose of the meeting was the arrangement of activities for the new semester.

Visitors at the Council meeting were Betty Wall, Eleanor Lindley, Nona Werner, Joyce Clares, and Betty Rogers.

Beginning this semester both the vocal and the instrumental departments were put on a full credit basis similar to that of the academic classes. Enrollment has been increased considerably since students may receive full credit. Those who join now may participate in the spring activities of the music department.

Medford Senior high's mixed quartette sang for the County P.T. A. meeting January 24. Members of the quartette are June Williams, Audrey Jarmin, Carl Winkler, Gerald Pence, and Vera Smith, accompanist.

Cigarette Surplus Serious Problem To Alaska Businessmen

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—A serious situation confronts unhappy Nome businessmen this winter—the problem of disposing of a huge surplus of cigarettes, butter, pre-war scotch and bourbon piled high in the warehouses and storerooms of restaurants, retail stores and hotels.

The goods were ordered last fall to take care of a large number of civilian construction workers who were later recalled with the result that the merchants have on hand an abundance of the better brands of cigarettes and an embarrassment of brands of liquor which have not been available on the black market in the states for two years.

"You know what's in those cases over there?" mourns Geo. Madsen, part owner of the Polar bar and curio shop. "That's Benedictine. The real stuff. And look at that ancient scotch and bourbon, and that mountain of cigarettes. Biggest stock we ever had in here. Only we're short on customers. You could shoot a cannon through the joint upstairs and not hurt anybody."

In 1943, California produced 33,812 76-pound flasks of mercury.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel mucus laden phlegm, and aid nature in soothing and healing raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you can have your money back.
