

GOLDBERG DENIES ATTEMPT TO LURE FEDERAL EMPLOYEE

Washington, Feb. 9 — (U.P.) — The story that he tried to lure a government employee into his service with a $15,000 job offer was a lie, Jacobs Goldberg told the Senate War Investigating committee.

Goldberg, auctioneer - president of Surplus Liquidators, Inc., also relied angrily to criticism by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York. And he said, "I deny it" when asked whether he had tried to bribe an auctioneer at Camp Funston, Kan., after the last war.

The committee is investigating disposal by the government of surplus war goods at auctions conducted by Goldberg's firm. LaGuardia previously had told the committee that the auctions were "scandalous."

But it was the testimony last week of John Van Ginhoven, DFC engineer, which evoked from Goldberg what he called the "ugly word."

He said Van Ginhoven "lied" when he was "invited up to Jake's room" in a Cleveland hotel and offered a job if he would recommend to his superiors that they give Surplus Liquidators a contract to sell surplus war goods at auction.

As for LaGuardia's fault-finding in connection with Goldberg's conduct as an auctioneer, the witness shouted:

"I'd like to see Mayor LaGuardia stand up there with me, facing 50 people, and not make any mistakes."

News From Jackson County for Men in the Armed Services

The Mail Tribune suggests you clip and mail this news roundup to a relative or friend in service.

Dear.....

Best news of the week has been that telling of the release of prisoners on the Philippine Islands and two joyful families heard that Pfc. Lorne B. Cox and Cpl. William E. Davis were among those released. Also on the list was Pvt. Willis C. Vincent, formerly of Medford. Relatives are hopeful that additional lists will contain the names of other valley people known to have been prisoners.

Both Cox and Davis were on Corregidor when the island fell to the Japanese and only a few routine messages had been received from them since that time.

A large number of men from this county are with the troops engaging in the Philippine campaigns. Cpl. Philip Lowry is with the Sixth Army in the islands and William G. Reed, RTic, who participated in the Leyte invasion, is now home on leave. Lt. (jg) Harold Stevens, pilot of a carrier based torpedo plane, has been participating in the campaign and a recent letter from Clayton Charley, S1c, told of the part which his ship played in the Luzon invasion, commenting on the huge troop convoy. A letter from Pfc. Arthur Hakkerup told of the gratitude and cooperation of the Filipinos and how they aided the American troops in every way possible.

News from Italy this week included a story about Second Lt. Robert G. Brown, who has been awarded an air medal at a 15th AAF base in Italy, and one about Sgt. William E. Short, recently awarded a bronze star medal for heroic achievement in action with the Powder River division. Sgt. Elroy Cordova and Pfc. Dallas H. Zimmerlee, also with the Powder River division, have been awarded combat infantryman badges.

A story from England reviews the historic adventures of the LST 309, of which Robert H. Hyde, MOM3c, is a crew member. The LST 309 has participated in four invasions and made 22 trips across the English channel since D-day without losing a man through enemy action.

Word from France says that Dick Woodcock, with the Ninth AAF, has been advanced to major and that Cpl. Gordon B. Bowman, Jr., has received the good conduct medal for service with an engineer's unit in France.

Three former state policemen, Paul Lowery, Stuart Earl and Thomas Eaton, recently composed a greeting to the Mail Tribune from their Seabee station in the South Pacific. Sgt. Charles L. Devine writes that he has arrived on Palau in the Caroline Islands, that he was feeling well and was "almost as black as the natives." His brother-in-law, William T. Rutherford, is now stationed on Guam in a navy disbursing office.

A story about Capt. Howard E. Schreengost from Alaska states that the captain "doubles in brass" - sing post S-2, post S-3, provost marshal and conservation officer. He is variously known as Capt. "Schreck," "the sheriff" and "the game warden," the story said, and has become known for his cane which he carries in order to test the depth of the numerous mud puddles around the post.

Servicemen in the week's news are Corinne D'Albini, who has been made a first lieutenant in the army nurse corps with the Third army and who recently wrote home to say that as a reward for six months hard work she had been granted a three-day leave to visit Paris, and Ruth Nutter, WAVE S1c, who has arrived in Hawaii for duty at a naval air station. Benita Hammack, S2c, WAVES, has been transferred to Stillwater, Okla.

The Kitchen brothers, Archie and Max, recently enjoyed a reunion at home. Archie, S2c in the navy, is a crew member of a carrier escort while Max, BM2c in the merchant marine, has been on Pacific sea duty and was under fire at both Guam and Saipan.

Others home recently, or still in the city, are Chester Ricks, S1c, home after 14 months in Australia; Robert Young, RDM3c, after 15 months overseas duty; Arthur Johnson, CM3c returned from 18 months overseas; Dale Vincent, home from South Pacific duty; Warren Law, home after 18 months in the South Pacific and Robert Lee Akins, MoMM1c, home after duty on a sub chaser operating in the Atlantic. Akins has three brothers all in the service, Vernon, R1c, Oceanside, Calif., Frederick, AM2c, Arcata, Calif., and Richard, AS, Shoemaker, Calif.

Lt. Ted Taylor recently arrived home after extended service with the 41st Infantry Division in the South Pacific and in the Leyte invasion and Capt. Robert E. Young has arrived in California after 16 months in the South Pacific as a marine corps pilot.

This week's casualty list contains several names. Lt. Maurice J. Sample, first pilot on a B-17, is reported killed in action over Germany; Lt. David S. Williams, co-pilot of a B-17, is reported missing in action over Germany; Pfc. Vernon Jones died of pneumonia in the Philippine islands; Sgt. Robert L. Asher, Ashland, was wounded in Belgium last month; Pfc. Joseph L. Zamzala, wounded for the second time while serving in Belgium and Pfc. James Pixler, wounded last month in Belgium. Alan Wray Lightner, former popular outfielder with the Medford state league Craters under the name of Al Wray, is reported missing in action in France.

Gene T. McCurley was recently commissioned a second lieutenant at Ft. Benning and spent his leave with his brother, Midshipman Ellis McCurley at Annapolis. Lt. McCurley is now at Camp Gordon, Ga., for further training. Robert Earl Brown graduated from Moody Field in Georgia and was made a flight officer. Pfc. John Moffat, Jr., stationed at Camp San Luis Obispo with the "Black Hawk" division, recently won the expert infantryman badge.

Lt. Dick Finch, last assigned to the field at Millville, N. J., expects to go overseas soon. Pvt. David S. Bromley has been assigned to the AAF training command radio school at Sioux Falls. Pvt. Virgil O. Anderson, Thomas L. Lewis, Medford, Pfc. Arthur Dusenberry of Gold Hill and Sgt. Andrew McQuat of Ashland have all been given honorable discharges from the service.

Philip Gates, S2c, has completed boot training at Farragut and his brother, George, is on sea duty in the Pacific. Pfc. William Bittle is home on leave from Lowrey Field, Colo., Robert Allen Fitzsimmons, S1c, has been home from Treasure Island, Second Lt. Donald R. Marshall, recently at Hobbs, N. M., is now at the Lincoln, Neb., air base after a visit at home and Pvt. Earl Fichtner has been here on a visit after completing basic training at Camp Roberts.

Pvt. Robert Hollifield has returned to Sioux Falls after a furlough in Central Point, Bill Barnum, aviation student at Keesler Field, Miss., is now home on leave and also home is Eugene Bennett, Y3c, stationed at the Alameda naval air base. His brother, Edward, F1c, is at the same base. Clinton Spencer, CPtr in the navy, is home for two weeks and will report next in New Orleans.

Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Bill Holloway are the parents of a son born Jan. 31 at San Diego, Calif., and Navy Chief and Mrs. Walter R. Jones, (Nancy Clark) are the parents of a daughter born Feb. 4.

Heavy rain all over southern Oregon the past few days has brought the precipitation up to normal, making up for a lack of normal rain and snow in January. Thirty men attended a meeting at which preliminary plans were made for organization of a ski patrol to serve as rescue squads.

The current drive is for old clothing for Russian relief, with school children doing the collecting.

Claude Haggard has returned from a trip east during which he demonstrated a unique stretcher, which he and John B. Meehan designed, to army and navy officials and representatives of many other agencies and companies. Vic Milnes is the new president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The ever-mounting string of Medford high school basketball victories grew over the past week as the powerful Black Tornado downed Bend's Lava Bears 50 to 20 and 57 to 7 in a series played here last Friday and Saturday.

Tuesday the Tornado unleashed a fury of power which saw them completely outclass Salem to win 65 to 33. It was the biggest score Medford has run up all season.

Today and Saturday Medford clashes with Klamath Falls here in what promises to be a bitter feud. The Tornado won twice from the F-Men earlier in the season.

Medford still leads the southern Oregon conference with seven straight wins, Ashland is second with four victories and five defeats and Grants Pass and Klamath Falls are tied for last with three wins and five setbacks.
