

DUNNE-BOYER TOP CAST CRATERIAN'S ROMANTIC COMEDY

Popular Stars Teamed Again In Brilliant Picture—Twin Bill At Rialto

The words "together again" have always had a magical effect on the movie-goer. They have always meant that two or more of their favorite stars were once more to gaze into each other's eyes with that look. The news, therefore, that one of the most popular teams of all times, Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer, will return in "Together Again" which will bow in at the Craterian theatre today, will be greeted with enthusiasm.

First captivating audiences as a team in "Love Affair" and later in "When Tomorrow Comes," Dunne and Boyer have been separated for some time. But movie fans have a way of expressing their desires and getting them heard by the film powers. So here are Dunne and Boyer together again, but with a additional something—Charles Coburn.

"Together Again," according to advance reports, is a gay, romantic comedy about the mayor (Irene Dunne) of a small town in Vermont and a sculptor from the big city. When lightning strikes the statue of her dead husband, ex-mayor of the same town, Irene decides to go to New York and contract for another one. She is advised by her crotchety father-in-law (Charles Coburn) to have a good time besides, buy a gay hat and get away from the confining influences of civic virtue.

Since the sculptor turns out to be Charles Boyer, it can be imagined quite easily that said instructions from Coburn are not difficult to follow.

"Storm Over Lisbon" Coming

The menacing shadow of death hovers near in "Storm Over Lisbon," with Richard Arlen, Erich Von Stroheim, Otto Kruger and Robert Livingston, coming Wednesday to the Rialto for four days.

Playing as the added feature on the Rialto's twin bill policy will be Charles Starrett, hard-riding western star in an action packed drama of the range entitled "Cowboy from Lonesome River."

Hayward head the Rialto twin-bill in "The Hairy Ape," with "Strangers in the Night" as the companion feature.

Sgt. McNamara Wins High Commendation In Pacific Actions

A letter of commendation from H. Schmidt, commanding officer of her husband's marine corps unit was received this week by Mrs. Howard W. McNamara, 917 West 11th street, praising Staff Sergeant McNamara for his action on Saipan and Tinian in the following letter:

"For efficient and untiring performance of duty during the action against the enemy Japanese on Saipan and Tinian, Marianas Islands, from June 15, 1944 to August 2, 1944, Staff Sergeant McNamara displayed outstanding courage and calmness as a wire team leader with the Corps signal battalion. In many instances he worked in areas infested with enemy snipers in an effort to complete wire lines. Although handicapped by enemy action and often by darkness, he led his team to the successful completion of each task assigned. His conduct and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval service."

Mrs. McNamara and daughter, Karen Leigh, have lived in Medford since last May at 917 W. 11th street with her mother, Mrs. J. H. McBee. She has two brothers in Medford also, G. W., and Earl McBee.

What's Doing at U. S. O.'s

The Java club with Beverly Watson, Junior hostess, serving, starts a busy week at Riverside USO at 9:30 this morning. Later in the day Kay Genter will play at the twilight sing, rendering requests. Supper will be served at 5 o'clock tonight by the Lady Lions, Junior Hostesses Mildred Shellabarger, Melva Morrell and Cleo E. Merritt will serve. A "Topsy-Turvy" party has been planned for 8:30 to-night and Stella and Bill Blading will lead off in an evening of upside-down fun, according to a memo on the affair in the club's newspaper Peep. Junior hostesses are especially invited to the party.

Monday evening dancing from 8 o'clock on is planned, while Tuesday the badminton fans will have their weekly session at 8 o'clock. A marshmallow roast in the lounge fireplace is planned for those wanting an old-fashioned "at home" evening.

A drawing for free dance tickets will take place at 7 o'clock Wednesday while a bingo game will hold forth under conductorship of Bill Blading. Besides the usual game prizes a grand door prize of homemade candy is to be given away to some service man or woman, the program director declared.

The prize for the winner of the current table tennis tournament is to be a free long distance phone call, it has been announced.

A horse named Justin Morgan, which lived approximately 150 years ago, gave his name to the fine Kentucky breed known as Morgan horses.
