

MCNEAL VOICES DISAPPROVAL OF YALTA MEETING

The repudiation of the Atlantic Charter and the return of power politics in international dealings even before victory has been won, were scored by R. W. McNeal, member of the faculty of the Southern Oregon College of Education in an address here Tuesday. Speaking before the Medford Rotary club at the Hotel Medford, McNeal voiced disapproval of agreements between the so-called "Big Three" at Yalta.

International practices must be guided by the doctrine of God and the spirit of world brotherhood, the speaker emphasized. This is the only certain way to lasting peace. Dr. McNeal's address dealt principally with the geography of the Pacific. When Balboa claimed the Pacific, all the islands and the lands washed by its waters, for the king of Spain he covered a lot of territory. There are nearly 69 million square miles of water, an area which would hold 250 states the size of Texas, and 33 times the size of the U. S. Roughly measured, the Pacific is 11,000 miles long, and 9,000 miles wide.

The areas of the Pacific were segregated and described by Dr. McNeal. As religion is important in determining the types of government, the faiths of the Pacific people were discussed. Despite professions of other religions, most of the people of the Pacific are true pagans. The influence of early trade on the island people was outlined. Indirect rule of island people through their own leaders has proven most satisfactory, McNeal said.

The fabulous wealth in natural resources of the lands which Balboa first claimed was pointed out, resources which include 92 per cent of the world's tin, 95 per cent of the rubber, and riches represented in minerals, spices, pineapple, quinine, copra, bananas and manila hemp.

Early steps leading to the present global conflict were traced by McNeal, starting September 18, 1931, at Mukden when the first shot of World War II was fired. It was on September 27, 1940, that the Japanese signed their pact with the now ill-fated axis and 584 million people of East Asia and the Pacific were plunged into the darkness of certain war.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. C. C. Goldsberry.

CITY ENGINEERS INSPECT LOCAL SEWAGE PLANT

Twelve city engineers, who visited Medford Tuesday, left here Wednesday for Klamath Falls. The engineers, who have just completed a two-weeks special course at Oregon State college, are now touring cities of the state to inspect sewage disposal plants and were shown the Medford plant Tuesday by Frank Rogers, city superintendent. Mr. Rogers accompanied the party to Klamath Falls.

The engineers were accompanied by Fred Merryfield, associate professor of civil engineering at the state college. Before arriving here they had inspected plants at Roseburg, Gold Hill and Central Point.

Making up the party were Bill Clubb, Eugene; Paul Basford, Springfield; Harold Davis, Salem; A. G. Volpp, West Lynn; T. J. Franzen, city manager of Oregon City; Vic Goodnight, Corvallis; Walter Larsen, Albany; Dean Dorsey, Corvallis; David Slight, St. Helens; Frank Hayes and Charles Daley, Pendleton; Ed. Hobson, Hood River.

REHEARING DENIED IN EARL FEHL TAX SUIT
Notice of denial of a plea for a rehearing in the suit of Earl H. Fehl against Jackson county in a tax foreclosure proceedings has been received by the district attorney's office. An appeal was recently argued before the supreme court at Salem.

District Attorney George W. Nelson will soon file a brief with the state supreme court in the suit of Fehl against Jackson county, for $11,000, claimed as due by Fehl, as his salary for his term as county judge which he did not serve in full.

PENALTY ON DOG TAGS IN EFFECT TOMORROW
This is the final day for the purchase of a 1945 dog license, without the penalty that becomes effective tomorrow under state law. To date 3,704 dog licenses have been issued including 500 from the Ashland area. The figures indicate most of the estimated 4,000 dogs in the county have been licensed. Many of the dogs licensed last year belonged to soldiers stationed at Camp White, since transferred to other places.

MRS. BERT LOWRY ATTENDS ANNUAL DRAWING BY DAR

Mrs. Bert B. Lowry, Medford, state regent of the Oregon chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, returned home yesterday from Salem where she was present for the annual drawing of the DAR good citizenship award for an Oregon senior high school girl. Gov. Earl Snell drew the number 13 which gave the award to Miss Betty Southwick of Lebanon high school.

The state regent points out that presentation of the good citizenship award is an annual event by the Daughters of the American Revolution in every state of the union and that requirements for candidates are set on a high standard. Scholarship, leadership, social adaptability and many other phases of citizenship are considered in naming the candidates, Mrs. Lowry reports.

Mrs. Lowry's home chapter, Crater Lake, sponsored two candidates, Miss Nancy Swem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swem, for Medford high school and Miss Charlotte Niedermeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Niedermeyer, for the Jacksonville high school. The winner, sponsored by Santiam chapter, was presented with a $100 war bond. Miss Swem and Miss Niedermeyer will be presented gold pins from Crater Lake chapter.

Mrs. Lowry was in Portland before the Salem visit to attend the Americanization Council meeting held in the municipal auditorium February 22 at which 1200 new citizens were in attendance. The Oregon DAR chapter is a member of the Americanization Council. March 9 Mrs. Lowry plans to be in Seattle for a regional conference of women called by the war department.

VETERANS TEAM UP TO INITIATE LEGION MEMBERS

World War II veterans demonstrated last night, before a large crowd of Legionnaires at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the American Legion, that they are quite capable of initiating all of their new comrades that are now coming into the post.

Commander Harry Young was high in his praise for the work done by the World War two initiation team, composed of Dick Baize, commander, George Hoag, first vice commander; Leon Jacobs, second vice commander; Herb Crain, past commander and Bob Littrell, sergeant at arms. A. J. Anderson filled his usual post as chaplain.

Large Crowd
Last night's meeting was one of the best attended in many months, and demonstrated the interest shown by veterans of the present war in joining the American Legion and receiving the benefits for which the older members of the organization have fought for, since its inception in 1919.

Next meeting of the post will be March 14 at which time the Legion will join with the auxiliary in a dinner celebrating the 26th birthday of the Legion. Already several entertainment members have been selected for this occasion. Included are four Mexicans from the labor camp who have many times demonstrated ability with song and music.
