Your Health and Its Care

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Readers should address inquiries to: Dr. William Brady 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Calif.

PARDON MY SNORT

Dr. Brady

Here is a clipping, apparently from a newspaper, but I do not know whether it is from the Forenoon Clarion or from Quip. Here, your lip isn't cracked, read it:

Cold Logic

Start of the "cold season" last week brought these anti-sniffle tips from Dr. Frederick C. Smith, director of war department Civilian Medical Division:

1. If you get wet feet, don't sit around all day in the same shoes.

2. Have two pairs of galoshes, one kept at the office and one at home. (I, Brady, would interject here that if you have no office then the hell with it. You'll have to hire a small boy to carry your spares so they'll be always there if it should turn damp.)

3. Keep an extra pair of stockings and an old pair of shoes in the desk drawer. (For people who carry mail or shuck oysters for a living smart shops now feature the duckiest chenille knapsacks in charming pastel shades, with desk drawer compartments for old shoes, stockings etc.)

4. If a cold creeps up on you, eat lightly for a few days—largely fruit juices, clear broths, milk, vegetables.

5. A hot bath, a hot drink and early to bed, warmly covered, fresh air in the room, should do for home treatment.

A month ago I had what Dr Frederick C. Smith and a hundred thousand of his colleagues would probably call a "cold"—if I were reckless enough to consult any of them. I ate as lightly as ever for a few days, including any fruit juices, soups, milk and vegetables I could get or like. As for hot drinks, not bath, early to bed, etc., there is no objection to them if you get any enjoyment from such fussing—but if a doctor suggested anything like that to me I'd give him the air. When I became obviously feverish (I refuse to use a clinical thermometer unless my physician finds it necessary) and maybe a bit more irrational than I am ordinarily, they summoned a real doctor, who sized up the situation in a few well chosen words you could print on asbestos. By skilful examination, not by guesswork, he found I had acute sinusitis-tracheitis, prescribed careful use of one of the sulfa drugs, made no faint allusion to the weather or anything like that, and promised to send me to the hospital if I were not improved by tomorrow.

The great trouble with these "anti-sniffle tips" of Dr. Smith's and the profusion of similar suggestions offered the dumb laity each year by publicity-hungry doctors and health officers is that you never can tell where prevention ends and treatment begins—and the "authorities" who hand out the comical rules know they are safe in sounding off that way just as long as your naivete lasts.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ambulant Treatment for Piles

I am 63 years old and do not relish the idea of entering the hospital for an operation. Can you recommend a doctor here who is skilled in the amdulant treatment for piles? I believe you advocate that method in preference to the operation. (Mrs. A. G. P.)

Answer—So many correspondents fail to inclose stamped addressed envelope when they ask for such information. I cannot print physicians' names. I do advise the ambulant method, but at the same time I warn you to beware of "specialists" who canvass the public for customers, by claiming they use this method, whether for piles, varicose veins or hernia.

Gum Chewing

Is habitual gum chewing hard on the eyes? (Miss O. J.)

Answer—It is a little hard on the eyes of those who have to watch you chewing. If you must chew, I recommend chewing a handful of plain wheat every day.

Dope

Is twilight sleep harmful to mother or child? If it isn't why don't doctors use the method? (Mrs. R. T.)

Answer—Too dangerous—can't control effect on mother or child once the hypodermic of morphine and scopolamine of hyocine has been administered. Expectant mothers should read "Childbirth Without Fear" by Dr. Grantly Dick Read (Harpers). And send me a stamped addressed envelope and 10 cents for booklet "Preparing for Maternity." If you want also "The Brady Baby Book" inclose 20 cents, for both booklets.
