

JACKSON COUNTY FARM NOTES

Compiled by County Office O. S. C. Extension Service

Poultry Meeting
Stated March 13

N. L. Bennion, poultry specialist of Oregon State college, will be in the county Tuesday, March 13. A meeting of poultrymen will be held at the courthouse auditorium, Medford, on that day, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

Problems in management, chick brooding and seasonal subjects will be discussed at this meeting. All poultrymen are invited to attend.

AAA Sign-up Starts This Week

Beginning this week, meetings have been scheduled for the eight districts of the county for the signing of farm plans for 1945. Individual notices are being sent to all participants in this program informing them where the meeting will be and when.

It is very important that these plans be signed as all farmers who do not have this farm plan made up and signed by June 1 are automatically out of the 1945 program. The AAA office is taking every means to let farmers know about the farm plan sign-up and it is every farmer's responsibility if he cares to stay in the program to see that he has a complete farm plan on file.

—R. G. Fowler, County Agent.

Berry Spraying Is Advised Now

Youngberries and boysenberries should be sprayed now for control of leaf and cane spot and scale. A mixture of one quart of liquid lime sulphur or one pound dry lime sulphur to three gallons of water should be used.

The leaf and cane spot disease results in the dead areas that are commonly seen on berry canes. These dead areas reduce the vigor of the plants to such an extent that fewer and smaller berries are produced. In severe cases the canes may die before the crop has ripened.

The scale appears as small white spots on the lower parts of canes. This is generally not very serious, but occasionally a heavy infestation builds up.

This same spray applied to blackberry plants after the new shoots are about four inches long will control the red berry disease.

Roses and grape vines that are troubled with mildew would be benefited by the spray, but it should be followed by sulphur dusts during the growing season.

Do not get lime sulphur on painted buildings as it turns paint black.

C. B. Cordy,
Assistant County Agent.

4-Hers Produce Food for Many

During 1944 20 Jackson county 4-H club members produced enough food of one kind or another to equal the entire food needs of at least one fighting man for one year. The equivalent of a fighting man's needs in meat is 1,300 pounds, in milk, 2,559 quarts, or in potatoes is 8,023 pounds. Other food products are in this same proportion, according to a chart distributed by the economics division of the United States department of agriculture.

Using this chart as a basis, Merton Bradshaw of Lake Creek produced enough food to feed five men and Alene Owens of Valley View produced enough for three men.

Other club members producing enough to feed one or more men were: Jan Freeman, Nadine Davies, Barbara Culbertson and Clara Mae Bigham, all of the Antelope club. Beth McCurley, Richard Ryan, Robert Ryan, John Ryan and Ted Birdseye, all of Westside; Don Bohmert and Lois Field of Central Point; James Higgins and Carmen Chase of Roxy Ann; Gene Wood, William Axel and Don Nichols of Bellview; Evelyn Ferns of Fern Valley and Louis Brenneholtz of Table Rock.

—Earle Jossy,
County Club Agent.

JAYCEES BACKING AIR STRIP PLAN

Efforts to secure a landing strip for student fliers of the Medford area is now underway by an aviation committee of the Medford Junior Chamber of Commerce, club officials report. Members comprising the committee are Kenneth Grant, Bill Chrysler and Dick Alley. Any one interested in learning to fly is asked to contact one of the aviation committee members.

Junior chamber members are lending support to the current Red Cross drive, having placed signs in various downtown business windows and taking part in solicitation of funds. B. Harder, head of the county Red Cross drive, recently gave an interesting talk before club members, telling how the drive is being divided in the county.
