News Behind The News
By Paul Mallon

Washington, March 13—Mr. Roosevelt's reorganization for the coming fourth (?) new deal has developed into a mere shift of name plates on office doors.
Not a single fresh figure has been brought in. Only one of the familiar faces has disappeared—the mobile countenance of the banker Jesse Jones (now referred to in the market for a Washington or other newspaper in which to express his ideals and wounded feelings).

THE unannounced part of the shakeup has definitely brought the Tammany-schooled ward boss, Edward Joseph Flynn, to the president's right hand in place of Harry Hopkins. After the Malta-Yalta-Livadio confab, Hopkins went back to the hospital and Flynn went to Moscow for more detailed negotiations with the Russians in the name of the president.
Flynn was only an assemblyman, sheriff and city chamberlain around New York before Mr. Roosevelt, while governor, appointed him state secretary of state, and eventually raised him to chairman of the Democratic national committee for the third term election.
Now, apparently, he is to handle both international diplomatic and domestic matters, taking the load which rested too heavily on the ailing Hopkins. He will bear it with more of a political and less of a social lift. The change represents the substitution of a consummate politician for a social worker.

THE announced part of the shift bears less significant meanings, aside from the striking disclosure that Mr. Roosevelt has not wanted any fresh blood or new ideas in this fourth administration. Otherwise the changes might suggest only that labor and the left-wing have improved their position at the inner council table.
Fred Vinson, in the place of Jesse Jones, is a man who knows Washington ropes, and he will pull them adeptly. The $40,000,000 mortgage empire built up by Jones will be quietly administered.
Economic stabilization will be in the hands of a patent attorney who has made a career of coordination and labor conciliation, William H. Davis.
The union chiefs were glad to get rid of Vinson. In RFC he cannot block their wage increase plans. They think Davis will follow the same conciliatory labor course as stabilizer he followed in the war labor board.
As a matter of fact, he will do whatever Mr. Roosevelt wants. He will up, down or hold as orders come from the White House, for he is essentially a Roosevelt man.

FROM these changes I would expect more politics and labor in coming decisions, and nothing much new. Definitely I think it means no job will be done on reconversion to peace comparable to the initial war production job in which new business leadership was brought in wholesale.
Everything is to be in the hands of the oldtimers, the tried Roosevelt friends who will, no doubt, follow the line they have been favoring.

WHAT the coming of Wallace to the stripped commerce department will mean, few will guess until they can see what he does with it. He is supposed to be angling to get control of the federal trade commission (now conducting investigations of bigness in business), and the federal power commission (which Ickes is not likely to release without a struggle).
However, the rumors that he also wants the O.P. WPB and a few other top bureaus, seem to have been concocted by his spotters, who thus have already started kidding his efforts to build up the commerce department into something leftishly powerful.
In his first move he appointed people who really know something about small business to investigate that subject, but so many commissions have been started by the government on small business without results, little enthusiasm attends this 16th or 17th effort.
Yet Wallace will have to acquire something important aside from patents, census, etc., to which his management now is limited, else this springboard to a 1948 presidential candidacy will sag and break under his weight. Wait on this one to see what develops.

Thus are the lines being drawn in rather than out for the fourth term, solidifying and tightening the personal Roosevelt control over everything with greater emphasis on political considerations and labor, directed by an exclusive White House clique, new in form but nevertheless familiar.

Communist Gift To Willkie Fund Meets Rejection

New York, March 13—(U.P.)—A $5,000 gift to Freedom House for the Wendell L. Willkie memorial building went back to the Communist Political Association today because of the "political implication" which Freedom House directors said accompanied it.
The directors voted 13 to 1 yesterday to return the contribution, the first in 4,000 to be turned down, because the CPA "was the only donor to give their contribution a political implication and the only one of the thousands who have contributed to accompany their gift with a press release."
