Why not advertise meat? Isn't there a shortage? Yes, there is, but all meats and all cuts are not "short" at the same time. While we may not have all the variety that once filled our cases, we do have a good selection of delicious, nutritious, quality meats at all times and we advertise them because you have the right to know what meats are available and the prices for them. Some of the cuts may be new to your table, but they've got what it takes in juicy tenderness and full-flavored goodness to make your meals more appetizing.
