SALICYLATES FOR RHEUMATIZ

For more than fifty years salts of salicylic acid, particularly sodium salicylate and methyl salicylate (oil of wintergreen or oil of birch, synthetic or distilled from wintergreen leaves or birch bark) have been used as remedies for rheumatism, inflammatory rheumatism, rheumatic fever, acute infectious arthritis. The same remidies have been employed almost as much for relief of various other ills called rheumatism Acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin) was introduced primarily as an improvement upon other salicylates or salicylic acid compounds, but has come to be used chiefly as a pain-killer in all sorts of painful conditions.

Dr. Brady

Any of these medicines may produce unpleasant or dangerous effects—such as tinnitus (ringing or other noises in ears), vertigo, deafness, nausea. So far as untoward or dangerous by-effects are concerned, aspirin is little if any safer than other salicylic acid compounds. In my opinion aspirin has no remedial value other than the relief it may give to ache or pain. I do not believe it cures or helps in the cure of any ailment or disease.

Recently some good physicians have administered by slow injection into a vein large amounts of sodium salicylate—as much as 10 Gm. (nearly 150 grains) dissolved in nearly a quart of salt solution every day for four days—in acute rheumatic fever, with astonishing relief for the sick child (most cases of rheumatic fever occur in childhood).

One of the risks in such treatment is prolongation of clotting time, which would increase the hazards of hemorrhagic complications from the damage the rheumatic infection itself does to the blood vessels. But this risk is largely guarded against by giving the patient adequate amounts of vitamin K, which is a physiological essential for natural control of bleeding or hemorrhage by coagulation or clotting of blood. Alfalfa (rich source of vitamin K, as also are other green leaves such as cabbage, spinach, cauliflower, kale, carrot tops) concentrate or synthetic vitamin K may be given for this purpose.

It is my own belief that the salicylates have remedial value only in rheumatic fever (acute infectious arthritis, inflammatory rheumatism), and that aside from temporarily relieving ache or pain neither sodium salicylate nor methyl salicylate (wintergreen oil, sweet birch oil) nor acetyl-salicylic acid (aspirin) has any remedial value in any form of chronic joint trouble, whether the nature of the trouble is obscured under the meaningless name of "rheumatism" or not.

The nature of rheumatic fever or acute infectious arthritis will be another story. Here suffice to say (1) it is always an acute illness usually affecting a young person, and (2) rarely if ever does any lasting disability of the affected joints follow the attack.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Wretched Parents

We have been married four years. My husband is 28 and I am 25. His mother objected to his marrying so young and both his parents object to our having children for a while yet. But when or if "His Majesty" does come I want him healthy and happy, so I am sending for your booklets. (Mrs. C. H. T.)

Answer—For Preparing for Maternity send 10 cents, and stamped envelope bearing your addresses. Both booklets free to service men or their wives who provide the stamped addressed envelope. I advise you, ma'am, to go ahead and have a baby now and keep as far from those parents-in-law as you can from now on. Is your husband a man or his parents' chattel?

Use Your Belly

Please let me have your instructions for belly breathing. I do about three dozen somersaults every day. But I can't do them backwards. Can you? (Mrs. S. M.)

Answer—The belly breathing exercise is described in pamphlet—copy mailed on request (do not use clipping) if you inclose stamped envelope bearing your address. There is no particular advantage in doing back somersaults, but, certainly, I can do—when I grow too old to roll somersaults I'll know I'm really old. I'd hate to be in the shoes of a lot of folk 40 and 50 who can't roll somersaults. If any reader wants to know more about this, send stamped self-addressed envelope and ask for "Invitation to the Somersaultauqua." If you ask for either of these pamphlets it is yours, but if you ask for both, inclose 10 cents with the S. a. e.
