CLOSING OUT DEAL

on four Dodge pickups, one command car, one flat-rack and one stock-rack unit.

I have spent hundreds of dollars reconditioning these cars and they are ready to go; all they need is a gallon of gas each, to show you some real performing cars. The local gas board has been very co-operative with me in my requests for gas, but there is a limit to all things. My allotment of gas has been stolen from these cars as fast as I put it in, and someone is going to get some real deals—and quick!

Bring a gallon of gas; try them and buy them. Cars in rear of George Goodman's service station, 9th and Central. Call me outside business hours at 4231.

CLAUDE MILES

P. S.: Will be back in business as soon as I can get a building where I can protect my merchandise. C. M.

WALTONS CHEER NEW LEGISLATION CONSERVING FISH

Local Waltonians are jubilant over passage of Senate bill 292 regulating screening of ditches, and House bill 378 regulating commercial fishing on coast streams. Word on the action in the recent session of the legislature was given at the meeting of the Walton club Tuesday.

Ken Denman, representative of the state game commission from this district, explained the far reaching effects of the legislation on all streams affected, and improvements to be expected. President C. H. Paske thanked the 70 members present for their untiring efforts in behalf of the two bills, and urged all 107 members of the Jackson county chapter of the Isaak Walton league to bend their efforts towards passage of the new pollution bill now before congress, resulting in all 70 members present writing personal letters to Senator Guy Cordon and Representative Homer Angell before the meeting was adjourned.

Refreshments and movies wound up the meeting. All sportsmen interested in the preservation of wild life, were urged to attend the next meeting being held under auspices of the sportsmen in Ashland, Tuesday evening, April 17 and to watch for later announcement.

To further coordination of various groups in giving information and assistance to veterans in respect to rights and prospects on return to civil life, a meeting was held here last week with round-table discussion led by Floyd J. The meeting was attended by representatives of the local selective service boards, Red Cross, Jackson County Public Welfare, U. S Employment Service, three veterans organizations, veterans administration and the veterans affairs committee of the chamber of commerce.

A subsequent meeting with the selective service boards and the county court considered the appointment of a service officer, as authorized by the last legislature. Final recommendations are expected soon.
