Olive Barber's Letter

• • •

A friend of mine lately received a letter I practically begged to be allowed to use in this column. It was written to her by a Norwegian captain of a boat which, so I concluded, has been leased to the British.

"My son, Ivar, finished his commercial training in July. Of course, education of any kind has been interrupted—when not broken off entirely—many many times. Especially so during '40 and '41. In my home town, Haugesund, the Germans took over all the schools but one. In that one, left for the Norwegians, the students had to take turns. Some went to school in early mornings, some in the middle of the day and some in late afternoon.

"These three groups included young children from 6 to 14; then the middle school, or those from 14 to 18. And then what we call the gymnasiaster, being those that have finished high school. Even the mates, masters and engineers had their schools taken, but they fixed rooms in the basement ordinarily used for coal and firwood storage.

"Ivar went to Bergen to our newest and largest university for commercial training. Now he is training to be what we call an "average adjuster." Many times he has been "ready" to be sent to Germany, but many have had to be left behind for lack of shipping space and always Ivar has been among those left.

"At one time the Germans took 1,500 students from Oslo alone. Sent them all to concentration camps in Germany. In Norway now, any young man or girl thought to be at all idle is taken and put at some job or other. If they do not do as told, they are sent to Germany as slave laborers. Many girls are taken to German brothels. Yes, the Germans are indeed herrenvolk. (master race).

"We Norweigans certainly are not over paid. I get what amounts to $200 a month. I'm captain of this ship, yet I get less than a messboy receives on an American ship. I know you can scarce believe this, but it is a fact. Our government in London has 'traded' us very cheaply to the British. When all we have saved has been destroyed by the Germans, we will have to start from the very beginning. I badly need a leave, but when I remember my sons in school in Norway, I know I cannot afford it. Our life at sea isn't easy. We haven't good men any more, which makes it even harder for one in my position."

I thought you would enjoy as much as I did, this glimpse behind the scenes; something not for the record.

Patton Defends M-4 Tanks In Action Against Germany

Washington, March 28—(U.P.)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the 3rd army, whose armor has just scored another sensational break-through, was on record today vigorously defending the U. S. M-4 tanks. These have been criticized as being too light.

Patton said the 3rd army tanks had rolled up a score of approximately two to one over German tanks. A substantial part of the enemy tanks were the heavy Tigers or Panthers. Many of the German tanks were dug in defensively, while American tanks were attacking.

Patton's views were given in a letter dated March 19, addressed to Lt. Gen. Thomas T. Handy, deputy chief of staff.

"It has come to my knowledge that certain misguided or perhaps deliberately mendacious individuals, returning from the theater of war, have criticized the equipment of the American soldier," he wrote. "I have been in command of fighting units since the 7th of November, 1942, and may therefore claim some knowledge of the various types of equipment.

"With reference to the tank, either M-5 (light) or M-4 (medium), it has been stated at home that these tanks are not comparable with the German Mark VI, the so-called Panther and Tiger type tanks. This statement is wholly incorrect for several reasons.

"Since August 1, 1944, when the 3rd army became operational, our total tank casualties have amounted to 1,136 tanks. During the same period we have accounted for 2,287 German tanks, of which 808 were of the Tiger or Panther variety, and 851 on our side were M-4."

Over 75 per cent of the nation's bentgrass seed is grown in Oregon.

The prize-winning entry, judged by three college professors, was hard red spring wheat. It was the third consecutive year that Colorado has won the wheat championship.
