PARADE, PROGRAM HONORS RETURNED HEROES OF WAR

Throng in City Park Hears Sen. Newbry in Welcome Talk; Reception at USO.

Jackson county citizens assembled in Medford yesterday to honor the county's war heroes on their homecoming day. The city park program was opened with a welcoming speech by Otto Frohmayer, acting as master of ceremonies. His remarks were followed by the Scout flag ceremony, singing of "God Bless America" by the assemblage and invocation by the Rev. Harry W. Hansen of the First Presbyterian church.

Senator Earl Newbry, of Ashland, delivering the main address in the city park program declared the fate of Japan was sealed, through the heroic efforts of America's fighting men. He compared the present situation of the United States with conditions following the "stab in the back" at Pearl Harbor. The senator praised the work of American service men and citizens as a whole and especially the fighting spirit which he said our enemies had greatly underestimated. He also cited the vast material aid given our allies. He urged unanimous support of the coming bond drive as a direct means of aiding the war effort.

Mayors Respond
Brief responses to Senator Newbry's address were given by Mayor Clarence A. Meeker of Medford and Mayor T. H. Wiley of Ashland. A group band number by the Medford and Ashland bands directed by Sid Bouck of Medford was followed by a prayer and meditation led by the Rev. Louis Kirby of the First Methodist church after which Cpl. Carl Frock from Camp White played taps.

Following a band number directed by Herb Mirick of Ashland, Miss Bernice O'Denny of the Riverside USO introduced the honored service men present. They were Staff Sgt. Clinton Culley, Merchant Seaman, George Campbell and Don Cook, who served on a navy flat top; Pfc. Joe Sutton, injured in the European theater; Sgt. Earl Jones, from an air-borne division; Fred Wilcox, EM1-c, and Lt. H. D. Byington, all of whom have served overseas. Introduction of the men released from Japanese prisons followed. They were Mrs. John Batchelor, who represented her husband who is hospitalized in Arkansas; Staff Sgt. Lorne B. Cox, who has been away four years; Sgt. William E. Davis; Master Sgt. William Distell; and Sgt. Bill Lorton, the latter a survivor of the sinking of a Japanese prison ship.

Parade Precedes
Preceding the program was a parade led by C. C. Leonard, marshal of the day, and followed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Oren Day, fils closer; O. O. DeBerry, who carried the national colors, and J. Henderson, who carried the post colors; heroes of Bataan and Corregidor, the Pacific area, and the European theater; the Ashland school band, Red Cross motor corps, Sheriff's Mounted Posse, Medford school band, the Rotary club, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, Pocahontas lodge, Medford Jr. high drum and bugle corps, Elks lodge, Ladies' Mounted Troop, Lady J.C.'s, Ashland Killie band, and the Rogue Troopers.

Reception at USO
Following the program a reception was held for the honored men, their families and friends, at the Riverside USO. Miss O'Denny later told of the expressions of pleasure and appreciation heard at the USO from the returned veterans and members of their families, for the community welcome. She told how the army had cooperated by permitting Sgt. William Davis to return here for the occasion after his home furlough had expired and he had reached San Francisco en route to a hospital in Georgia. Miss O'Denny said Medford had shown the way in inaugurating the welcome home program for returned veterans and that she hoped similar programs would be given from time to time with equal cooperation of the officials, townspeople and business concerns.

J. G. Jackson Takes Managership Local Piggly Wiggly Store

J. G. Jackson, formerly of Portland and Klamath Falls and well known in southern Oregon retail grocery circles, has assumed management of the Piggly Wiggly store at 528 South Riverside in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are establishing permanent residence here, realizing a long standing desire to make this city their home.

Mr. Jackson has been associated with the Piggly Wiggly for the past 20 years, a portion of which has been in the capacity of supervisor of stores. For seven years he was manager of the Piggly Wiggly store at Klamath Falls, during which time he had close contact with retail interests of this community.

Under Jackson's management the entire Piggly Wiggly store here has been reorganized and many improvements made in varieties of merchandise and customer service.

Maj. Geo. Andrews To Visit Medford Soon, Letter Says

Major George E. Andrews, former Medford resident now stationed at Kansas City, Mo., with the air corps, has written the Chamber of Commerce to inquire about land available along the Rogue River and stated that he planned a visit to Medford in the near future. Major Andrews, son of Mrs. George Andrews, New York City, and the late Mr. Andrews, reminded Chamber of Commerce officials in his letter that he had boosted Medford years when on the National Broadcasting company networks before the war.

The major's parents were leaders in musical activities when they resided in the valley. Major Andrews is a nephew of Mrs. Will Andrews, 537 West Tenth street, and a cousin of Mrs. Grace Fiero of the same address. Mrs. James Stevens of Ashland is also a cousin.

Telegraph Company Lacks Information On Ike's Address

San Francisco, April 6—(U.P.) A telegram to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, supreme commander of allied armies on the western front, has been returned to the senders because it lacked sufficient address, it was disclosed today.

The International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's union, at its recent convention, dispatched a telegram to Gen. Eisenhower at "supreme headquarters," allied expeditionary forces," pledging continuation of a no-strike pledge.

Western Union sent back the telegram marked "insufficient address" and said they required Eisenhower's APO number.
