NAVY ISSUES CALL FOR MORE WOMEN FOR DUTY

The navy has sent out another emergency call for young women to assist in the final phase of the war against Japan. During the winter months the quota for Wave enlistments were drastically curtailed, since the action in the Pacific was comparatively quiet, but with the spectacular developments in the Philippines and nearby islands, the urgency for more Waves to replace shore-based men has become greater. Information regarding the Waves can be obtained at the recruiting station in the Post Office building.
