Wall Street

New York, April 20—(UP)—Stocks opened and closed on a note of irregularity. A rally sandwiched between these periods lifted all averages and sent the utility average to a new high since July 31, 1937.

When opening irregularity failed to bring in new selling, the list rose easily but the recovery lacked support of volume and when weekend evening-up operations developed late in the day the market was unable to absorb selling. Prices drifted down from the best levels of the day, and many leaders finished at losses.

Leading railroad stocks furnished a relatively large volume.

Preliminary closing Dow-Jones averages: Industrial 162.83, off 0.35; Rail 54.96, up 0.10; Utility 29.80, up 0.04; and 65 stocks 60.90, off 0.04.

Sales were 1,130,000 shares against 1,680,000 yesterday.

Today's closing prices on selected stocks:
