RARE LILY OWNED BY JOHN GRIBBLE

A stalk of an unusual lily, the Fritillori crown imperial lily, was brought to the office of the Mail Tribune Friday by John E. Gribble, 139 Kenwood avenue. The bulbs of the plant were given to the Gribbles by Mrs. Edmund Piele, and but a week later Mr. and Mrs. Piele both lost their lives when fire destroyed their home near Shady Cove about a year ago.

The lily bears from four to seven brownish colored blossoms at the top of the stalk, the flowers suspended downward from a crown of narrow leaves. It is a native of Persia and not often grown in this section, Mr. Gribble stated.

In memory of the donor, the Gribbles prefer to call the plant the Mrs. Piele lily.

HEALTH WORKERS COOPERATING IN CANCER CONTROL

Cooperation of the Jackson county health department in the local drive of the American Society for Control of Cancer was announced by Mrs. John S. Day at the monthly board meeting of the executive board of the Jackson County Public Health association.

Mrs. Day, county chairman of the 1945 drive, told the board that county health nurses are distributing literature to promote control of cancer in every community this month.

Letters have been sent to an extensive mailing list also, reaching all sections of the county, she stated.

The board met for luncheon at the home of the Public Health association president, Mrs. Elwood Hedberg. Preliminary plans were made for the annual meeting of the association next month. Exact date of the meeting is dependent upon plans of Mrs. Saldie Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association. Mrs. Dunbar will come from Portland for the meeting and the date will be announced as soon as her plans are completed, Mrs. Hedberg explained. The meeting will be in the form of an open luncheon session, as usual, at the county courthouse auditorium.

MAYOR PRESENTS SIX-POINT PLAN FOR IMPROVEMENT

park site. Mr. Reginald Parsons of Medford and Seattle, has enabled the city to have the benefit of services of Ben Evans, superintendent of parks in Seattle, who spent ten days here studying recreational needs and the park situation and has developed a park layout. With help of the Seattle park bureau engineers, which the council and planning commission feel is outstanding. All this was without cost to Medford. For landscaping, construction of sprinkling system, wading pools, walks and buildings, $75,000 is required.

New Bridge Needed

The old Jackson street bridge is inadequate and unsafe and with increasing traffic attendant on city growth and the installation of the new park, must be replaced. The sum of $35,000 is allocated for this purpose.

The present City Library, completed about 1911, and designed to serve a population of around 5,000, is outgrown, outmoded and unable to efficiently serve the average of 500 persons now using the facility daily. Modernizing the present structure and addition of space is expected to cost $102,000.

Construction of storm sewers and a drainage system to take care of flood conditions and also to keep street water out of the sanitary sewer system, has long been looked upon as a paramount need. The program earmarks $482,000 for this purpose.

Enlargement of the sewage disposal plant and addition of a digestion tank and a settling tank is advocated with provision for eventual addition of a garbage disposal unit. In addition to meeting the increased demands on the sewage disposal plant, and providing for expected population increase, the improvement would permit greater use of gas generated from the sewage, thus making the plant more self-supporting. Cost of the additional installation is estimated at $231,000.

Pyle Is Buried Beside Buddies On Tiny Island

Okinawa, April 21 — (U.P.) — Ernie Pyle was buried on Ie Shima yesterday beside some of the doughboys he glorified. As a chaplain read a brief burial service and spoke the final words, a squad of riflemen fired a volley of shots and the flag-draped coffin was lowered into the ground.

The lovable little war correspondent, killed by Jap machine gun bullets Wednesday, was accorded a military funeral when it was discovered he was a seaman first class in World War one. That, and not the fighting he did with his typewriter in this war—was decided upon as the official reason he was entitled to be buried with "appropriate military honors."
