

"A Song To Remember" Opens

Bewitching Merle Oberon and vibrant Cornel Wilde, as Madame George Sand and Frederic Chopin, composer of immortal melodies, have many tender and turbulent love scenes in the all-Technicolor production "A Song to Remember," which opens a one-week engagement at the Holly theater today. Paul Muni as the young genius' devoted music master, is starred with Miss Oberon.

Bogart In Craterian Thriller

An adventure story of two independent souls in Vichy-controlled Martinique, the screen's new adventure romance, "To Have and Have Not," opens at the Craterian theater today for a three-day engagement. With a cast headed by Humphrey Bogart, the film features the sensational newcomer Lauren Bacall, Walter Brennan and Dolores Moran. The screen play is adapted from a novel by Ernest Hemingway and directed by Howard Hawks.

William Bendix In Rialto Film

You'll find the marines almost everywhere . . . but who'd expect to find a couple of tough leathernecks in skirts? Bill Bendix winds up in just such a fix in his latest comedy "Abroad With Two Yanks," opening a three-day engagement at the Rialto theater today. Co-featured in the hilarious comedy farce are Helen Walker, Dennis O'Keefe and John Loder. Edward Norris in the mystery-romance "End of the Road" is the companion feature.

Medford Students Win Scholarships

Two Medford students have received scholarship awards from Mills College, Oakland, Calif., according to an announcement by the college publicity office.

Miss Clara Margaret Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Daniels, 407 Park avenue, was awarded an academic scholarship for the year 1945-1946. She is in the Mills' class of 1947. Miss Helen Jean Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Webb, 819 Minnesota avenue, was awarded an advanced standing scholarship for the year 1945-1946. She will enter Mills as a member of the class of 1948 from the University of Oregon.

Turn Used Uniforms Into Military Post

Camp White authorities ask that any cleaning establishments, hotels or other institutions who may have abandoned army uniforms or parts of uniforms left in their place of business to turn them over to Camp White.

The war department said there is a need for used uniforms and urged that any institution having army clothes which are long uncalled for to turn them into the military post.

Bill Todd Elected Torch Club Prexy At First Meeting

The Torch Club, a national organization made up of high school and out-of-high-school boys, was organized at the YMCA recently.

Those initiated were Bill Todd, Bill Tams, Dean Eppinger, Ralph Rothermel, Wayne O'Neil, Wayne Rose and Gene Higgins. Todd was elected president, Tams vice president, Eppinger secretary, Carroll Lantz treasurer, Rothermel sergeant at arms, O'Neil chaplain and Rose publicity manager.

Most of the evening was spent in drawing up the constitution and planning the program for the next three months. The group will continue to meet throughout the summer. Next week's meeting will be an initiation followed by bowling. The May 9 meeting will consist of a weiner roast, followed by games and a talk by Ben H. Schmidt on China and Chinese customs.

New Device Ends Locomotive Smoke

Columbus, O. (U.P.)—Battelle Memorial Institute, famed research laboratory here, has invented a simple gaspipe device which keeps locomotives from smoking.

During tests on engines in actual operation, firemen objected to the roaring noise the device made. Battelle scientists promptly developed an inexpensive silencer.
