RED CROSS MUST CONTINUE EFFORT SAYS CHAIRMAN

"Collapse of Germany's fighting forces in Europe in no way lessens the American Red Cross responsibilities," Seth Bullis, chairman of the Jackson County Red Cross chapter announced today.

"Chairman Basil O'Connor has informed me from Washington that everything possible must be done to maintain Red Cross services to American troops remaining in Europe; the wounded in hospitals, liberated prisoners of war, civilian internees and returned veterans, and to intensify our operations with the military in the Pacific and China - Burma - India theaters," Mr. Bullis said.

The anticipated transfer of American troops from Europe to the opposite side of the globe and expansion of the Army and Navy in the final push against Japan must be accompanied by a corresponding increase in Red Cross service in the Pacific and C-B-I commands, Mr. Bullis said.

"Europe has been only one front in this global war," Mr. Bullis said. "Nothing has happened in Europe which reduces our overall burden for the next twelve months. There seems no likelihood of immediate mass withdrawal of American troops from the European continent."
