

JACKSON COUNTY FARM NOTES

Compiled by County Office O. S. C. Extension Service

More Meat Production Is 1945 Farm War Job

To help offset the reduction in red meat, WFA seeks more poultry meat production. As an inducement, ceiling prices on broilers, fryers and roasters will increase an average of 1.3 cents per pound on July. With hog marketings down more than a third from a year earlier, farmers are urged to meet the 1945 fall pig goal of 37 million head, which is 18 per cent more than last fall's crop. The support price, Chicago basis, has been raised to $13 per hundredweight on all good and choice butcher hogs up to 300 pounds. Ranchers and farmers are urged to market their cattle and calves soon as they are ready. This would result in more meat now when it is most needed and would help prevent congested fall markets and other marketing difficulties. If farmers achieve the 1945 slaughter goal for cattle and calves, they will market about 17 million head, about three million more than in 1944.

Cattle Feeders To Get Subsidy

County AAA committees soon will receive instructions for making 50 cents a hundredweight payments to feeders who feed cattle for at least 30 days and market it as grade A or grade AA beef. It is expected that the program will be handled similar to the dairy feed payment set-up, with payments being in the form of a sight draft on Commodity Credit made on the basis of the feeder's sales receipts.

FATHER'S DAY CARDS

Father's Day is June 17th. Time now to select cards to send overseas.

SWEM'S
Book and Gift Shop

Grade AA or choice beef has a dressed carcass yield of 81 per cent and grade A or good has a yield of 58 per cent. It is obvious that this subsidy will not effect many feeders as it takes a mighty good animal to carry this high percentage.

Farmers Get Break On Surplus Trucks

Farmers will get first choice on surplus trucks and other farm machinery under a new disposal system which goes into effect on June 1.

WFA will determine the areas where surplus farm equipment is to be sold. These areas will be where farm production is impaired or impairment is threatened by a shortage of trucks or other farm equipment. The Surplus Property board will decide the kinds and amounts to be made available for each area and direct the Department of Commerce to make the equipment available immediately, ahead of all other priorities. This equipment will be sold only to dealers who agree to sell exclusively to farmers in the area. To purchase surplus trucks, farmers or farmer cooperatives will be required to present certificates issued by their county Triple-A committee. No certificates will be required for surplus farm machinery and equipment. Dealers will be required to notify Triple-A committees of the number and description of trucks available to farmers in their county and will be advised of the farmers and farmers' cooperative associations holding AAA certificates. Dealers will furnish reports giving the name and address of each purchaser of surplus trucks.

Farm Power Extensions

Power extensions and connections to farms may now be made by utility companies without WPB approval if materials are available, according to new regulations. Farm applications for such service no longer need be filed by applicants with the county AAA committees, whether er it be for domestic, livestock or irrigation purposes.

The lifting of restrictions on electric hook-ups does not affect the AAA copper wire distribution program. Requests for farmstead wiring are considerably more than county copper wire quota. Less than 3,000 pounds remains of the state allocation of 14,700 pounds for the second quarter. The third quarter allocation will not be received until June 10.

R. G. FOWLER,
County Agent.

Elm Beetle

Elm beetle are now working on elm trees and can be controlled by spraying with arsenate of lead. Use three pounds per 100 or a table-spoon per gallon.

These elm beetles are about a quarter inch long and light brown with a dark brown stripe along each side. When disturbed they drop from the leaves and fall to the ground or fly away.

The adult beetles eat holes in the leaves and lay yellowish egg clusters on the undersides of the leaves. These eggs hatch into a slug-like larvae. These slugs skeletonize the leaves and unless controlled, the trees will sometimes become bare.

Cucumber Beetles

If you are being troubled with 12 spotted cucumber beetles, dust the plants attacked with a mixture of one heaping table-spoon of calcium arsenate in one pound of kalcipaster. Many plants are attacked, but melons and beans are favorites.

Olive Barber's Letter

It is my belief that no statistics are so misleading as those on divorce; misleading, that is, if each divorce is supposed to have written "finis" to the love the divorced ones had for each other.

Last evening my husband and I took an accounting of the couples we know who have divorced. With few exceptions, we decided, the parties regret the separations.

What started us thinking along this line was the young woman we met on our way to town. By mutual consent she and her husband had separated several years ago. Both have confided to friends the wish they hadn't. To one, the man said when he considers remarrying, always the girl he has in mind falls so far short of the ideal his wife set for him that he can't go through with it. I do not know that she has made a like statement but the evidence is that she has never got over loving the man she divorced.

As I said, we met her. She had, at long last, she said, found an apartment. Wouldn't we like to go and see it? We would. We did.

She showed us into the little place with a sweet possessiveness which was, to me, infinitely touching. I know so well how it is with a woman and the place she can call her own. Too, I remembered how this girl had always loved the various homes she had had during the years of her marriage. These had been many, and none of them very good, for they had married during the depression and the going had been hard.

Now she was making another home; or trying to. Yet I know that for her any home would be but half a home without a mate to share it with her, for there are such women. In fact I think the normal woman is that way.

She was not yet completely established in her apartment and so the new dishes were in colorful disarray over the table. There was a large white coffee pot. "Bill always made fun of my doll-sized coffee pot. I got a big one this time." (How galling the smile! How heart-twisting the tremulous lips!)

Oh, I could go on and on, reviewing the lives of those we know who have divorced and remarried yet who by their actions, sometimes by their own confession, never again experience the high sweet flame of their first love. There are exceptions, but for the majority, divorce has been a mistake.

Banking Committee Oks Bretton Woods

Washington, May 24—(U.P.)—The House Banking committee approved the Bretton Woods agreements by a 23 to 3 vote today, giving the administration a thumping first-round victory on that sector of its foreign policy front.

Before voting, the committee amended the bill to meet complaints of critics of the powers proposed for the huge international bank of reconstruction and development and the monetary stabilization fund.

Those critics had argued that the fund—intended to stabilize the values of foreign currencies would be misused and its resources tapped for purchases of capital goods rather than exchange stabilization.

The committee adopted two amendments giving the American interpretation of the powers of the bank and fund.

Hollywood, May 24—(U.P.)—Movie Starlet Claire James today abandoned plans to divorce her second husband.
