Many Meat Sellers Fail to Register With Ration Board

Many farmers who sell meat have failed to register with the local price and ration board under the new meat program, L. L. Ternahan, secretary, stated yesterday. The secretary pointed out that under the new program, all farmers who sell or transfer meat must register and receive a slaughterer's permit from the local board.

Previously the permits were issued by the War Food administration, but this has been discontinued and new permits must be obtained.

NEGRO LOSES APPEAL
Washington, June 5—(U.P.)—The supreme court today refused to set aside the murder conviction of L. C. Atkins, Dallas negro, on a plea that only one negro was permitted to serve on the grand jury which indicted him.
