

PRISONERS FILL NEEDS OF LABOR, ROTARIANS HEAR

German prisoners of war have filled a definite labor need in this country and more are needed here to meet critical labor shortages, according to Lt. Col. Lou J. Farber, officer in charge of the Camp White POW section. Farber emphasized the fact that prisoners here mostly Afrika Korpsmen with a few from the Normandy invasion, are treated firmly in full conformance with the Geneva Convention and are not coddled.

Close censorship on the handling of prisoners of war has resulted in much misunderstanding, that is why the public will be given information concerning the POW program in the future, the speaker said.

For the past two months non-rationed foods have replaced rationed items on the menu for prisoners, and scarce soft drinks and cigarettes have disappeared from these canteens go to a fund for athletic equipment and correspondence courses for prisoners. Radios without short wave are allowed and magazines are not restricted. It is a case of no work, no eat with prisoners, Col. Farber told Rotarians. In occasional cases of work strikes bread and water becomes the menu for strikers.

German prisoners here are well disciplined and good, thorough workers, Col. Farber said. The men are subject to the articles of war the same as American GIs.

Only four cases of escape have occurred at the Camp White compound and those who participated were quickly returned. Among 300,000 German and Italian prisoners working in the U. S., only 273 had escaped and only 16 were supposedly at large when last checks were made. Without clothes and money and with distances so great, the chance for successful escape is remote. No instance of sabotage has been recorded at Camp White, although about 150 men have been weeded out and removed as trouble makers since the camp opened.

Col. Farber outlined the method of organizing the prisoners into companies and the system of working in crops and industries when not in conflict with free labor. Eighty cents a day is the prevailing wage to POWs, while the government receives the balance between that wage and the prevailing labor scale in each area. More than $25,000,000 has been returned to the government through prisoners' labor, the speaker said.

Col. Farber, a veteran of the last war, was introduced by Mark A. Goldy, program chairman.

Jacksonville Group Outlines Plans To Work With Chamber

Preliminary plans for organization of a group in Jacksonville to work with the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce were made at a meeting Monday night in Jacksonville. The new group, which desires to work in the general interests of the city and county, plans activity in connection with tourist trade and along other civic lines.

Attending the meeting from Medford were Frank Hull, manager of the county Chamber of Commerce and Dwight Houghton, finance chairman of the chamber.

I know I've been an awful grouch not taking you any place lately. But after standing all day at my new job, my feet darn near killed me with callouses and burning. Now I've returned—or rather my feet have—thanks to the medicinal Ice-Mint you advised. Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast—and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business. I've been able to get some extra overtime money—what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

Oregon Must Forge Ahead

Immediate steps needed for Oregon's progressive development are improvements in the higher education which will enable Oregon to keep her promise to returning service men; State hospitals and houses of correction are in immediate need of remodeling and expansion. The money is on hand and requires only the vote of the citizens to make it available. Voting for this $10,000,000 State Building Fund will not increase property or income tax rates.

Help Oregon keep her place in the growth of the Pacific Coast by going to the polls on June 22 and voting for this necessary measure.
