

MORSE SAYS OPA HIGH AND MIGHTY TOWARD CONGRESS

Oregon Senator Calls on Bowles to Resign in Public Interest; Cite Bungling

Washington, June 12—(U.P.)—Sen. Wayne Morse, R., Ore., today called on Price Administrator Chester Bowles to resign "in the public interest" if it's a question of "having your own way or resigning."

Morse read to the Senate an exchange of letters between him and Bowles. The price administrator had asked the senator for "full and complete retraction" of a statement made by Morse last week to the effect that Bowles' promises weren't "worth the paper they are written on."

In his reply, Morse asserted that OPA had a "high and mighty" attitude toward Congress and by "bungling" the lamb price situation in Oregon had caused great losses to producers.

In addition to inviting Bowles to resign if the other alternative was having his own way, Morse accused OPA of permitting itself to be used politically by Oregon Democrats last fall.

"A fair share of the blame for that" he told Bowles, "must be laid at your door."

Washington, June 12—(U.P.)—Sen. Harlan J. Bushfield, R., S. D., asserted during Senate debate on price control extension today that OPA "should be abolished."

He asserted that "little pip-squeak OPA hirelings" go out of their way "to hurt people, to annoy people, and to humiliate them in their own communities." "There is no reason," Bushfield added, "for the continuation of OPA. It should be abolished."
