

Legion Post Will Entertain 'Retreads'

Veterans who have served in both World War I and World War II, otherwise known as "Retreads" will be special guests at the Wednesday night meeting of Post No. 15 American Legion at the armory.

Commander Young stated that the honoring of the veterans has been scheduled for the last meeting of the season in order to include as many "two timers" as possible. All business will be dispensed with and the evening given over to sociability. A Dutch lunch will be served by the canteen committee. Visiting Legionnaires are invited to attend. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock at the Armory.

Closing time for Classified Ads 8:30 a. m.—Too Late to Classify 12:15 p. m.

CAPTURED GUNS WILL BE SHOWN HERE TWO DAYS

Japanese cannons, machine guns, and smaller arms used in jungle warfare captured on Saipan and Mindoro by American forces, will be placed on display in Medford tomorrow morning at the corner of N. Front and Main streets, where it may be seen until Tuesday night.

Making its arrival in a 10-ton truck specially constructed for the tour, the display, sponsored by Naval Aid Auxiliary will include 70-mm barrage and trench mortars, 20-mm Oerlikon and anti-aircraft cannons and various types of guerrilla jungle weapons.

An added feature of the exhibit which will be open for public inspection from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. is an exact replica of a nazi V-1 robot bomb which failed to explode upon landing in England.

LUTHERANS CELEBRATE WITH SPECIAL SERVICE

St. Peter's Lutheran Church is today celebrating its annual Mission Festival in the Lincoln school auditorium on North Bartlett and Maple streets. Special services will be held at 11:00 a. m. and at 2:30 p. m. Pastor Alwin L. Rubin of Portland, Ore., will deliver the sermons. The local girls' choir will sing two numbers. Lunch will be served by ladies of the congregation in the lunch room of the school.

Workers Sought For Government Positions Here

The Civil Service Commission has re-established an office here, with Eugene Liljenquist recruiting representative in charge of securing government employees. The commission opened an office here in 1942 but due to expansion of navy and marine installations at Klamath Falls, the office was moved there in September, 1944. The Klamath Falls office has now been closed and Liljenquist transferred back here in order to secure critically needed employees for Camp White. His office is at the U. S. Employment Service.

Employees needed at local army installations include stenographers, typists, storekeepers, auto mechanics, body and fender men, refrigeration mechanics, painters and plumbers. Persons not engaged in essential industries are eligible.

DELEGATES NAMED FOR DEMOCRATIC MEETING

Mrs. Elmer Donahoo, 431 Haven street and Carl Newell, 432 Fairmont street, will represent Jackson County as delegates to the Young Democratic State Conference in Portland June 30, according to Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, regional advisor. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas will address the conference as guest speaker. State President Nancy Honeyman Robinson will preside. Delegates or their proxies from Oregon's 36 counties will attend.

ERNEST HAYCOX, ROTARY SPEAKER COMING TUESDAY

Ernest Haycox, nationally known author of western stories, will be guest speaker at the Medford Rotary club luncheon Tuesday, June 26, at the Hotel Medford, in a meeting which will climax the club's 1944-45 year. Guests will be members of the Medford Kiwanis club.

Haycox will discuss challenging problems of peace in an address: "Strictly one man's view of peace." Mrs. H. M. Browning, talented vocalist and member of the staff of the Standard Oil company here, will also be featured on the program. Mrs. R. E. Boyden will accompany Mrs. Browning at the piano.

Haycox's western stories, the latest of which is "Canyon Passage" in the Saturday Evening Post, have thrilled millions of readers of nationally famous magazines. His "Stagecoach" and "Union Pacific" are among the best known novels adapted to moving pictures. "Apache Trail," "Trail Town," "Sundown Jim" and "Whispering Range" are among many serials which have been published in Colliers, the Saturday Evening Post and Screen Stories.

"Canyon Passage," which recently appeared in serial form in the Saturday Evening Post is a thrilling novel of this area, with Jacksonville in gold rush days especially featured.

The author is a veteran of the Mexican border campaign and World War I. He is a member of the Oregon Library board, American Legion and Delta Tau Delta national fraternity. Haycox is recognized as a brilliant speaker and a keen student of international affairs.

Illinois Visitor Here As Guest of Aunts
Miss Connie Meador of Patoka, Ill., has arrived in Medford to spend the summer with two aunts, Mrs. P. B. Simcox, 27 North Fir street, and Mrs. H. G. Dowson, 47 Berkeley Way.

Ron Rice Becomes Department Head at Purucker Store

Ron Rice of Spokane, Wash., has joined the staff of the Purucker Music Store here as manager of the band instrument and radio departments, according to an announcement Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Purucker. Mr. and Mrs. Rice and two daughters, Helen Jeanne and Shirley Ann, will make their permanent home here. The two daughters, both talented musicians, will attend Medford schools.

Mr. Rice's experience in musical fields includes general sales direction, school band organization and conducting and choir direction. For nine years he was supervisor of music for schools of Hoquiam, Wash., and was department manager for the Ted Brown Music store at Tacoma. While in Tacoma, Rice was choir director for the First Christian church.

As northwest sales manager for Fred Gretsch Manufacturing Company of Chicago, Mr. Rice had wide experience in the musical instrument field and represented this firm at the National Music Educators' conference at Los Angeles in 1940. He also took part in eastern music trade shows.

Mr. Rice is a graduate of Washington State college. He served as assistant vocal instructor at that school having charge of chorus work during summer session.
