Portland Chamber Beckons Industry With New Brochure

A new book called "Let's Look at Portland," just published by the Industries Committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce features photographs taken throughout Oregon and the wealth and productivity of the entire state as an argument for Portland as an industrial site.

Containing 130 photographs—industrial, scenic, cultural, and recreational—the book presents facts and figures throughout 48 pages for businesses looking for coast locations.

Aim of the book is stated in the forward: "The Portland Chamber of Commerce is vitally interested in promoting the industrial development of the entire Pacific Northwest and particularly the state of Oregon and the lower Columbia River basin territory. We realize that the future of Portland is linked with the progress and growth of the entire area."

Being given nationwide distribution among industrial leaders, the book will also be placed in libraries throughout Oregon and go to all chambers of commerce.

COMMUNIST PARTY IN BERLIN REORGANIZED

London, June 26.—(AP)—A Moscow broadcast said today that the Communist Party had been reorganized in Berlin.

"The Communist Party of Germany has emerged after 12 years of bitter underground struggle, and is now officially registered with Soviet military authorities in Berlin and with the German magistrates," NBC Correspondent Robert Magidoff said in the Moscow broadcast.
