Compiled by County Office O. S. C. Extension Service

Clover Certification Deadline is July 15

Hay Sale Requires Invoice, Information

Farmers who sell hay seem to be pretty well informed about ceiling prices on alfalfa and other mixed hays. One item has been overlooked, however, in the information sent out by this office and our attention has been called to this oversight by the OPA. This is in regard to invoices and statements of information.

Invoices and information which must be shown by the seller to the buyer must include: (1) On each sale of hay of 2,000 pounds or more, the seller shall give his customer an invoice or bill of sale which must show the sales price and the area of production in which the hay was grown and must separately state all transportation costs and markups included in the invoice price.

Jackson county is in area 2.

Pressure Method Stressed in Canning

Homemakers will agree that only the safest methods of canning from the standpoint of health should be used. Second to canning for safety, we think of preserving desirable color and texture of foods.

The importance of canning non-acid vegetables by the pressure cooker method has been stressed repeatedly for the past several years and more and more homemakers are falling in line to follow this safe recommended method of canning.

The cold and hot pack methods of canning fruits and processing them in the hot water bath will guarantee an attractive and pleasing product.

To help the homemaker with her problems in food preservation, Mrs. Vivian Freeman, northwest home canning expert will be in Medford, July 19 and 20, at the USO auditorium, 6th and Riverside, to conduct interesting demonstrations on the newest canning methods. These meetings will begin at 1:30 p. m. both days.

A similar meeting will be held in Ashland on July 17, in the Women's Civic Improvement club across from Lithia Park.

Miss Marian Farrell, Jackson county home demonstration agent will also help you solve some of your problems on freezing foods.

Plan to attend these free classes so that you may help preserve every ounce of surplus food this year.

YANKEES LOUSY IN LOVER ROLE SAY PARISIENNES

Paris, June 28—(U.P.)—Frenchwomen say the Yanks are lousy lovers and considerably less well-behaved than Hollywood movies had led them to expect, according to the Parisian Weekly, Samedi Soir.

Annoyed by a recent column in the army newspaper Stars and Stripes, in which scores of GI's aired their gripes against French women, the weekly retaliated with a few complaints about the Yanks.

"Here's what French women don't like about Americans," the newspaper said:

"First, their getting too often and unbearably drunk.

"Second, their devil-may-care attitude: They talk and laugh too loud.

"Third, their inability to distinguish a respectable woman from a tart.

"Fourth, their insolence to women on the streets.

"Fifth, their inability, except in the movies, to pay refined, charming and sentimental court to women."

According to the Samedi Soir, French men are bitter about the whole deal. They feel that the Yanks are exerting a vulgarizing influence on French girls, teaching them to chew gum and talk through their noses," among other things.

Nazi Murder Toll Set At 16,350,000

New York (U.P.)—The nazis and their allies have murdered more than 16,350,000 civilian men, women and children in occupied Europe, according to a tabulation of the editors of True Magazine.

The total, based, the editors said, on lowest official estimates, includes 10,000,000 Russians, 5,000,000 Poles, 1,000,000 Jugoslavs, 145,000 Dutch, 83,000 Greeks, 60,000 Czechoslovakians, 50,000 French, 15,000 Belgians, 750 Norwegians, and 75 Danes.

It does not list 1,000,000 children of France who, according to Gen. Charles de Gaulle, starved to death under German rule, nor does the tabulation include 500,000 Greeks who met a similar death.
