

120 BOYS ENJOY LAKE O' WOODS SCOUT VACATION

The annual Boy Scout Camp of Crater Lake area council at Lake O' Woods is now in the third week with a record number of boys in attendance this year. Campers this week number more than 120, and in order to take care of the increased enrollment five one-week periods are being run instead of four as in past years.

The camp buildings were enlarged and improved this season, and an increased staff is employed, it was stated today by Gordon Gilmore, director. Assistant director at the lake is H. J. Ylvisaker.

Two fully qualified adult waterfront directors, Miss Eleanor Coombe of Ashland and Miss Barbara Osten, with seven assistants who hold life saving certificates, constantly supervise the swimming and boating area of the lake, assuring utmost waterfront safety, Gilmore states.

All boys are classified as to their swimming ability, and are required to stay within certain marked sections until they prove sufficient skill to advance to deeper sections. An unusually large number of boys this year are qualifying for swimming, life saving, rowing and other waterfront merit badges, the camp director adds.

Craft work at the camp is designed to enable Scouts to pass requirements for merit badges not obtainable in the city, with emphasis on camping and outdoors activities.

THE FOREST FIGHTS!

● The devastating fire on Wilson River near Tillamook emphasizes strongly the need for utmost care in the forests of southern Oregon. We must not let it happen here!

On the battlefronts of the Pacific forest products are backing our boys in their gallant fight for freedom. Wood is today, just as it was after Pearl Harbor, a number one critical war material. Landing barges, gun stocks, docks, battleship decking, P-T boats, airplanes and smokeless powder are just a few of 1,200 uses of products of forests. As we drive for the very heart of the Japanese Empire, the need for wood increases.

More than one-third of this wood comes from Pacific Northwest forests—a major part of it from Oregon, the greatest timber-growing state in America. Much comes from Jackson County! Our soil will keep on growing magnificent forests to serve the world—IF WE KEEP FIRE OUT! Foresters say this is liable to be a bad forest fire summer. These hot days, a dry east wind, and one spark, one match, or one cigarette can turn hundreds of acres of precious green forest into blackened ruin. Don't YOU be the the careless one!
