HARRY E. WILCOX KILLED IN ACTION, MOTHER INFORMED

"He was always cheerful, willing and competent in whatever he did. His sense of humor never failed in even the toughest places. His ready smile and his cowboy boots were famous. Harry was doing his job and at his station when his summons came," said Lt. (jg) D. C. Johnson, head of department on a destroyer, in a letter to Mrs. Lucille Wilcox, telling her of the death of her son Harry Edmund Wilcox in action off Okinawa, May 27, 1945.

Harry Wilcox attended Medford schools and graduated from St. Mary's academy. He left Medford with the National Guard and when the local units returned to Medford he joined the navy. He was assigned to night fighters with the amphibious forces. He was injured in a Marshall Island engagement and hospitalized at Pearl Harbor.

Returning to duty Harry served as a radar instructor and later was assigned to a destroyer where he served a year as a radar operator.

Wilcox was the son of the late Lucien Wilcox and Mrs. Lucile Wilcox, who now lives in Portland where she is employed by the Veterans Administration.

SUICIDE BALLOONS TO CROSS PACIFIC

Moscow, July 27—(U.P.)—Japanese home propaganda is claiming that "suicide" balloons soon will be sent to attack the United States, according to the Red army newspaper, Red Star.

Red Star quoted the Domei Japanese news agency as reporting the Japanese command in the South Seas has said it soon will send the suicide planes across the Pacific.

The balloons, said the report, would travel at 50,000 feet altitude and would reach the United States in slightly more than 100 hours.

Merriman Enjoys Mail Tribune On Station at Guam

Copies of the Mail Tribune received by Herbert Merriman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Merriman of 515 N. Bartlett street, now serving on Guam, are thoroughly read and enjoyed and then passed on to other valley men stationed near him, according to word received from Merriman.

Merriman, who was recently promoted to seaman first class, writes that his newspapers are given to Guy Corliss, who worked with Merriman's father eight years with the California Oregon Power company, and then to Rodney Merriman, MoMM 1/c, of Ashland who is with another outfit on the island. From there, other Oregon men claim the local news, the seaman says.

Merriman adds that he hopes to see Mel Wright on Siapan soon, as the two worked together at Snider's Dairy before Wright entered the service.

The affair is held each year, officers state, and many of the out-of-town members who are unable to attend regular meetings of the chapter and auxiliary, take this opportunity to renew acquaintances.
