

OFFICIAL WORD OF COL. BRADY DEATH RECEIVED

Official word has been received by Mrs. Jasper E. Brady, Jr., of the death of her husband, Lt. Col. Jasper E. Brady, Jr., on December 15, 1944, while he was being transported to Japan aboard a Japanese vessel carrying American prisoners of war.

According to the letter from the War Department, the ship with 1619 prisoners, was sunk in Subic Bay on the west coast of Luzon. During the bombing and sinking 942 men lost their lives and 59 died later. Many of the survivors are known to be in prison camps in Japan but only two, so far as known, escaped.

Enlisted in 1917
Col. Brady enlisted in the Army the day World War I was declared, April 6, 1917, received his commission while he was overseas and remained in the regular army after the war. He went to the Philippines in November, 1941 and was assigned to the 31st Infantry Regiment on December 7.

He first commanded the 3rd Battalion and during this time he was awarded the Silver Star and was recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross, though no official word has been had that he received this.

On January 26 he became regimental executive officer and on March 2 took over command of the 31st. This was the one regular army regiment in the Philippines at that time. The men who were in it wear the unit citation ribbon with two Oak Leaf Clusters. After the surrender of the forces on Bataan, Col. Brady was in Field Hospital No. 2 at O'Donnell and then at Cabanatuan until two months before embarking for Japan when he was moved to Bilbid, the "staging area" for prisoners going to Japan.

Taught in Prison
During the period of his imprisonment Col. Brady at various times taught a class of American history, worked in the camp garden and was the commanding officer on two work details, the first during the filming of a propaganda film made by the Japanese for Filipino consumption early in 1944, called "Down with the Stars and Stripes" (and which had no effect on the Filipinos), and the second from February 14, 1944 to August 14, 1944 during the reconstruction of an airfield three kilometers from camp. The men later saw Americans bombing this field and their morale soared, as it did always when they saw those long awaited planes coming back in unbelievable numbers.

Mrs. Brady has been told that reports of released prisoners indicate that Col. Brady was outstanding both on the battlefield and during the years of imprisonment.

ment, that through his courage and diplomacy he was able to save many men from beatings and at times was able to improve the lot of those under him on the work details mentioned above. On the airfield detail he secured permission to build shelters for men exhausted from the heat.

Cotton Clothing Will be Slow in Reaching Market

Washington, July 31—(U.P.)—Pre-war quality cotton dresses, shorts, shirts and housecoats will not be on the market until several months after V-J Day because the armed forces still are using 100 per cent of some cotton weaves, the War Production Board said today.

Reduced military requirements for wool and worsted indicate, however, that a greater supply of wool topcoats, overcoats and dresses will be on retail shelves by November. Production of worsted wool suits is expected to reach 75 per cent of peacetime production by January, 1946, the agency said.

The scarcity of men's shorts, WPB explained, is due to the fact that the weave used in their manufacture had been reserved entirely for military use.

LAMB SUBSIDY PLAN REVEALED

Portland, July 31—The Oregon Office of Supply, Commodity Credit Corporation was today advised of the lamb subsidy program announced today by Commodity Credit Corporation and the Agricultural Agency according to C. R. Tulley, State Director.

Effective August 5 through July 30, CCC payments will be made to those selling lambs to authorized slaughterers for slaughter, ranging from $1.50 to $2.50 cwt. for 65 pounds to 90 pound lambs. Over 90 pounds the rate will be $2.15 to $3.15 cwt.; $1.00 for all other sheep and lambs.

Tulley stated the program is designed to encourage feeding of lambs to heavier weights, help producers meet increased costs and it is expected that its operation will normalize seasonal marketing and increase legitimate slaughter.

Payment will be made by the AAA. The RFC subsidy of 95c cwt which has been previously in effect is being withdrawn at the same time.
