

AMERICAN REDS PLAN TO RENEW CLASS WARFARE

Break with Truman Administration Next Expected Step; Foster To Lead.

Washington, July 31—(U.P.)—American communists are under new management today and preparing to renew their class warfare here at home just as soon as Japan is licked.

Next expected development is an open break with the Truman administration.

A three-day convention of the Communist Political Association ended Saturday night in New York. The communists announced yesterday that they had deposed Earl Browder, their long time leader, and had put William Z. Foster at the head of affairs. Foster is a veteran class war maker. They also announced the death of the CPA and the re-birth of the community party—a political organization.

Cooperation Recess
The party went out of the political business in May 1944 under Browder's leadership and turned itself into an "association."

At that time it announced a program of cooperation with private enterprise and the Capitalistic Society which distinguishes the economy of the United States. Foster protested at the time and now after 14 months has reversed the 1944 decision. All of this was accomplished by aid of a bitter denunciation of Browder and his policies written by Jacques Duclos, a French communist leader, who recently returned to Paris from Moscow.

Browder is being sent by the communists to a spiritual Siberia, although his party membership evidently was not cancelled. This change in the direction of communist thinking is the third spectacular reversal of the party line in four years.

Sabotaged Defense
From the moment of the outbreak of the war in September, 1939, until June, 1941, American communists conducted an aggressive and bitter campaign of parades, demonstrations and strikes against American aid to Great Britain and, later, production for our own national defense. For days before Hitler's unexpected invasion of the Soviet Union on June 21, 1941, communist-inspired demonstrators had been picketing the White House in protest against the "imperialist war." Their banners contained such slogans as "The Yanks Are Not Coming."

When word came that midnight of the German blow at Russia almost immediately the communist party line here became 100 per cent anti-Hitler and 100 per cent pro-war. They whooped it up for an all-out national effort to lick fascism. Rep. Vito Marcantonio, American labor party, N. Y., who is a leading spokesman for communism in the United States, had for some time been casting solo votes in the house against all national defense measures.

Marcantonio reversed himself as speedily as had the paraders. None was louder after we got into the war than he in demanding a "second front" to ease the German pressure on Russia.

Night Spot Burns On Redwood Route

Grants Pass, July 31—Foster's Dine and Dance on the Redwood highway was burned to the ground Sunday about 2 a. m., according to the owner, Howard Powell.

The State Forest patrol arrived shortly after the fire started, but was unable to extinguish it.

There were still a few customers on the premises when the building started to burn and they were able to save the piano and six bar stools. Powell said the building and equipment were only partially covered by insurance.

BOSHEARS LOST IN B-24 CRASH, OFFICIAL WORD

Medford Pilot One of Six Remaining With Plane War Department Informs.

Official finding of the death of 1st Lt. Jerome T. Boshears, U. S. army air corps, has been recorded by the war department, according to information received by his wife, the former Alice Wall.

Lt. Boshears was reported missing in action July 9, 1944. He was first pilot of a B-24 (Liberator) bomber which was seen to crash in the English Channel about 60 miles southwest of

1st Lt. Boshears

Beachy Head, England. The crew had taken off on a bombing mission over France and were forced to turn back after reaching the French coast when engine trouble developed.

Uncertainty surrounded his absence for some time, and hope was held that further trace might be found of six missing members of the crew of ten. Four men parachuted safely from the plane, one of them dying later in an English hospital. Boshears was one of the six who remained with the plane which crashed and sank. Information from surviving witnesses led to the official finding of death.

Lt. Boshears was born Jan. 31, 1917, at Huntsville, Tenn., graduated from Medford high school in 1934 and attended the Southern Oregon Normal School at Ashland. He received flight training on the west coast, receiving his commission at Stockton, Calif., July 28, 1943, graduating with class 43-G. He was stationed in England and completed several missions.

Surviving the lieutenant are his widow, three-year-old daughter Jo Carolyn, mother, Mrs. Charity Boshears, sisters, Martha and Alma Ruth, and a brother, Miner.

Franciscan missionaries, who played a large part in western and southern California affairs, did not cross the Sierra Nevada range.

MANAGER TELLS HOW TO PROTECT SOCIAL SECURITY

Klamath Falls, July 31—Howard J. Nelson, manager of the Klamath Falls Field Office of the Social Security Board, stated today that loss of Old Age and Survivors Insurance benefits, due to delay in filing claims can be prevented by observing two simple rules.

First rule is, that every worker in covered employment should visit or write the nearest field office of the Social Security board when he is 65, whether or not he intends to retire.

The second rule is, that the immediate family or near relative of every worker who dies, and who has ever worked in covered employment, should visit or write the nearest field office without delay, whether or not they know definitely that the worker was insured, as benefits will be due them if the worker is insured.

The Klamath Falls Field Office is located at 206 North 7th Street, in the Esquire Theatre Building.

OREGONIANS FACE FULL INCOME TAX

Salem, Ore., July 31—(U.P.)—Oregon income taxpayers will have to pay the full amount of taxes next year, the State Tax Commission disclosed today after a decision that there can be no forgiveness rebate on payments.

Money on hand cannot meet all the expenses of state government and still permit the forgiveness feature. The state and county school fund will also not be paid, as the Commission announced last week. It would have amounted to approximately $3,000,000 on the basis of $10 per pupil.

Addition of $5,000,000 to the state's obligations, for the recently voted building fund, was principal cause of the cut. The forgiveness feature for the past tax year was 30 per cent, and the year before, was 75 per cent.

Washington, July 31—(U.P.)—The retail ceiling prices for choice and fancy canned fruits of the 1945 crop will be one or two cents less in the popular sizes because the fruits will be packed in a lighter syrup than used last year, the Office of Price Administration said today.
