Your Health and It's Care

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D. Readers should address inquiries to: Dr. William Brady, 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Calif.

BETTER SAY HI-YA THAN NOTHING AT ALL I have had something on my mind for a long while. I don't mean bowling—I mean something about the letters you dear, kind people write me, particularly the multi-paged ones.

Now, dad-bust it, I may be just as hard-boiled as I pretend to be, but somehow I can't handle that problem. In fairness to all my correspondents I should, of course, divide my time and consideration among them as equitably as I can, at least among those readers who comply with the instructions regularly printed here. Do I follow this policy? I do not. Trouble with me is I can't take it or let it alone. If a word, a phrase or some little letter about a letter arrests my attention at the first glance, before I realize it I'm immersed in the thing and I wade through the entire fourteen pages before I come up for air. In all fairness, I repeat, I should consign such letters to the warehouse, to be dealt with in the sweet by-and-by, if at all. But no, I have never learned that kind of efficiency. I file 'em here, there and everywhere, intending to study them more carefully just as soon as I have caught up with the regular everyday correspondence.

But I have reached an impasse now — all available drawers, files, baskets and other receptacles stuffed and running over with letters I had hoped to take up again some day and answer as I would a letter from an old friend. The only solution of the problem appears to be a ruthless housecleaning and begin again with a clear conscience and a clear desk. That, by the way, will be consistent with my policy—to keep absolutely secret the identity of correspondents. When anybody writes to me, be he physician or layman, I assume he does so in privacy, and I keep it that way unless he or she gives me written permission to divulge his identity.

There are many questions I can't answer here, for one reason or another. In these personal answers I do my best to answer questions pertaining to personal health and hygiene.

Just remember, dear subscribers and tightwads who read the neighbors' papers, if you elect to disregard the instructions and write me long letters about your case or anything else, you're out of bounds and you should try to keep your shirt on if I fail to acknowledge or answer your letter soon or ever.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS Phantasm Stocking Is it necessary to have a doctor's permission to use the new paint instead of stockings? (Miss D. R.) Answer—No, it is not.

Happy to report the teachings in your invaluable booklet on constipation have enabled me to overcome the habit completely. Have not needed or taken any kind of laxative now for several months, and I feel much better than I ever felt while depending on such medicine. (M. A. B.) Answer—On request, you inclose ten cents and stamped envelope bearing your address. I'll send the booklet "The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene."

How old does a woman have to be before she can have cancer of the breast? Could a woman 35 years old possibly have cancer of the breast? She has never had any children. (A. B.) Answer—Cancer may occur at any age, though in most instances a woman is forty or past when cancer of the breast occurs. Don't wonder and worry about it. Report to your physician at once for examination and advice.

Cramps in Legs at Night For over a year I have suffered a good deal from cramps in the legs at night. Especially when I have worked hard on lawn or garden the day before. (E. A. D.)
