Atom Bomb Plant Sabotage Foiled

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Aug. 15—(U.P.)—It was revealed today that a "planned attempt" was made to sabotage the American atomic bomb project here and that it was thwarted by a specially trained unit of the army's counter Intelligence Corps.

Military agents were assigned to this home of the nation's top secret weapon and formed the nucleus of an organization which successfully protected the secret, an army release disclosed.

Key scientists working on the development of the bomb were constantly guarded, the army said.

Camp Beale, Calif., Aug. 15—(U.P.)—Two soldiers, Pvt. Herbern W. Reid, 21, and Pvt. Clinton Stevenson, 30, were hanged this morning at Camp Beale in the first official army execution at the post, Gen. Oscar B. Abbott, commanding officer, announced.

Stevenson was sentenced in an army court martial several months ago for stabbing to death a fellow soldier on a labor leave in Isleton, Calif., more than a year ago. Reid was convicted on a charge of raping a Marysville, Calif., girl.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE DELIVERS HER PET PEEVE

Dr. Brady

In June 1935, I graduated from high school, and by a bit of luck I was valedictorian, having the highest standing in my class of forty-one. As valedictorian I had to write and deliver my so-long—you know. I got through it somehow, but how I wish I could have chosen my own subject for that little farewell address! I could have told 'em a few things. If you are still reading, Dr. Brady, I'll tell you.

I have a pet peeve. Why in the world don't they teach girls in high school, boys, too, as far as that goes, the sensibilities of home-making, dietetics, baby care, how to budget income and manage money, and the practical part of hygiene, prevention of disease, domestic medicine, such things as you teach so well through your column, for people who have the gumption to read and heed?

Most girls marry a few years after they leave school and their high school education proves of little use to them in the business of living.

I did learn to cook certain things in high school—fudge, fancy cake, that was all. Cooking meat and vegetables was just not refined or suitable for school girls, I suppose. As for canning—I had to learn that through the newspapers too.

In high school I learned to sew—French seams; no shortcuts or quick methods to make a child's dress in an hour or so.

I have two lovely daughters (both born by Caesarean section) and I intend they shall know these things as well as I can teach them.

But it does seem to me that practical things like that should be taught in school, and then many homes might be saved if girls knew these fundamental things when they begin married life.

I could go on and on . . . (Mrs. C. F. A.)

I applaud everything you say, Mrs. A.

If I had the necessary political pull or backing I'd like to write a series of text books for use in the grade schools and high schools, but without the necessary influence to get textbooks accepted for use I fear it would be love's labor lost.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Poison Ivy

We are going to spend our vacation at a lakeside place where poison ivy grows. Several people have had ivy poisoning in the place in recent years. (Mrs. W. J. M.)

Answer—No harm to try the immunizing treatment as instructed in pamphlet on "Ivy Poisoning" available on request if you provide stamped envelope bearing your address. It gives instructions also for treatment of ivy poisoning.

Whooping Cough

Please explain what makes whooping cough dangerous. (Mrs. D. R.)

Answer—Chief danger is pneumonia. If patient is kept in the open air, not confined in poorly ventilated room at night, this is least likely to develop. Wide belt with insertions of elastic webbing to support belly, is helpful to patient. X-ray treatments of diaphragmatic region moderate severity of coughing spells. Injections of pertussis bacterin ("bacterial vaccine") in incubation stage (7 to 14 days interval between time of infection and beginning of illness) or even in the early days of the illness before a distinct whoop is heard after coughing spell, generally diminish severity and shorten duration of the disease.

Never Mind Fuzz

I am 37 years old. In the last few months have noticed a fuzz appearing on side of my face. What can I do for it? Do creams and lotions have anything to do with it? (Mrs. H. M. E.)

Answer—Fuzz on every women's skin. Sometimes stimulation of massage and rubbing (with or without cream or lotion) causes the practically invisible fuzz to grow heavier and become visable. Best to let well enough alone. If you must do anything, keep it smooth by rubbing lightly with a fine pumice stone. Send ten cents and stamped envelope bearing your address, for booklet "Cosmetic Blemishes" which tells how to deal with most facial or complexion blemishes.

Short Order

I am 25 pounds overweight and would like to lose it by the 20th of September when my husband is to come home on furlough. (Mrs. J. W.)

Answer—I advise you not to try. Ten or twelve pounds would be all you can lose in that time without endangering your good health, good looks or good nature. Take care of those incidentals and your husband will be a darn sight more pleased than he would with a skinny, complaining, sickly substitute for the girl he left behind him. Send a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask, in writing, not with a clipping, for the pamphlet "How to Lose Weight."

EQUESTRIENNES HUNGER ON TRIP IN THIS REGION

Seattle, Aug. 15—(U.P.)—Told nine weeks ago by a Santa Cruz, Cal., ration board they could not have gasoline for the trip, a 55-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Nellie McDonald, and her daughter, Mrs. Francis N. Davis, arrived here today, each 25 pounds lighter, having travelled 1,000 miles—on horseback.

"We averaged 15-38 miles a day, the horses wore out three pairs of shoes, thinned down a lot, and once we went three days without eating when we tried to shortcut through Tiller Pass over Devil's Knob, between Medford and Canyonville, Ore. But I guess we are even with that gasoline board now," Mrs. McDonald said.

On the leg north from Yreka, Cal., the pair did 38 miles in one day "because we were afraid to get out of the saddle because there were so many bears around," Mrs. McDonald said. Clad in levis, jackets and sombreros, and packing their own bedrolls, the pair learned to ride only a year ago.

Purpose of the trip, which cost the women $175 apiece, was to visit Mrs. McDonald's granddaughter, Sandra Jo, aged four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary B. McDonald, of Seattle.

The Pacific Union club in San Francisco, founded in 1852, was the first "gentleman's club" on the Pacific coast.
