A GLASS OF WINE FOR GRANDMA
The exact amount of ale or wine Dr. Osler urged at the pinnacle of his fame and she in her eighties doesn't matter. What matters is Mrs. Osler's reply. "No, no, Willie, I can't take it - I'm afraid I might get the habit." And Willie, being a good doctor, let it go at that.

content, or a glass of beer, is enough. It would not become one preaching moderation to recommend more than that amount. It is better still, of course, if people can be so brought up from childhood that they will not feel the need of such stimulants. Don't take 'O' Doc Lorand too seriously about that. "Stimulants" my eye. Narcotic is the word and the only honest word for alcoholic beverage or liquor or its effect. Bringing up may be good enough in some instances to assure such good health that the child or youth or young adult will not feel the need of alcohol, but hardly the bringing up that most kids get in homes and schools where physical education is carefully ignored or neglected. I tell you, stupid, the young person who has vite feels just fine and dandy and has no need and no use for alcohol or dope to enable him or her to get the greatest enjoyment out of life. It is your mollycoddled, flabby, weak, pampered, malnourished, poorly educated boy or girl who resorts to alcohol to numb his or her inner consciousness of inferiority.

NEW AUTO COSTS KNOWN NEXT WEEK

Washington, Aug. 24—(U.P.)—The car-hungry public will know next Monday or Tuesday how much new automobiles will cost, but meantime indications are that the prices will be higher than in 1941. The office of price administration is now putting the finishing touches on the new ceiling prices. OPA Chief Chester Bowles said they would be made public on the first or second day of next week. Bowles dodged newsmen's questions for a specific hint of the new car prices but he denied Detroit reports that the forthcoming ceiling would be 14.4 per cent above 1942 levels. He gave strong indication, however, that 1941 would be the base year in figuring the new prices.
