YOUNG AUTOISTS GIVEN WARNING

A warning to juvenile motorists who are reported to be causing considerable disturbances by frightening horses on country roads was issued today by Sheriff Howard Gault. Several valley residents have complained about young people in jalopies purposely scaring horses by swerving from the road into the path of riders. License numbers have been noted in some cases, and the sheriff is informed that complaints have been filed with the district attorney. Motorists are also asked to dim their car lights when approaching horsemen on country roads, Gault said.

STAR, CLUSTER ARE RECEIVED BY HERO'S KIN

For gallantry in action against the Japanese forces on Jan. 24, 1945, the silver star with one oak leaf cluster was posthumously awarded Friday to T Sgt. Hubert A. Santo, army infantry son of Mr. and Mrs. Elza R. Santo of 411 East Main street. Mrs. Santo received the medal from Lt. Fred J. Johnston, post adjutant, who presented it at the Santo home, on behalf of Col. John R. Young, commanding officer of Camp White. The sergeant had previously received another silver star.

The citation stated that T Sgt. Santo was placing members of his platoon in position under fire, and when a squad leader and automatic rifle team were caught in a pocket and bracketed by mortar fire he calmly, and without regard for his own personal safety, exposed himself to draw the enemy fire and permit the withdrawal of his men to a more tenable position. In so doing, Sgt. Santo was seriously wounded by enemy mortar fragments. While the enemy was engaged in firing at Sgt. Santo, the automatic rifle team withdrew without casualties to themselves and took up more favorable emplacements to secure the platoon's position.

A graduate of Medford high school in 1939, Santo was outstanding as an athlete in football, basketball and baseball. He attended Linfield college at McMinnville, Ore., one year, and was a member of Co. A of the state National Guard in Medford before entering active service in April, 1941. Santo took part in several campaigns, including Bougainville and Munda. He died Feb. 5, 1945, as a result of wounds received in action on Luzon Island in the Philippine group. A brother is serving in the navy.
