

Athletic Program Builds GI's Morale, Ike Claims

By Jack Cuddy
(United Press Correspondent)
Frankfurt-Am-Main, Germany, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had no worries today over morale of American troops in Europe, provided they are supplied with enough athletic equipment.

Given five free hours anywhere, he said, an American soldier is sure to get some kind of a game started. He described the American love of sports as a continuation of the frontier spirit. Initiative and the desire to excel, stimulated by sports, have made the Americans excellent soldiers, he added.

Ike Meets Writers
Eisenhower met touring American sports writers for an informal half hour at his private office in the "European Pentagon," the I. G. Farben industrial office buildings where more than 17,000 persons work including 4,000 officers of the Headquarters Command.

Eisenhower said the army was developing sports in the European theater and stimulating inter-allied competition in order to provide wholesome recreation for U. S. troops and to promote international relations.

He said the playing field developed so much spirit that a boy beaten in the 100-yard dash will try to win the 220-yard dash, a more difficult run.

Boxing Great Sport
He said he thought boxing was the greatest sport when properly undertaken, because it developed self confidence and conquers fear of personal injury when men learn that a black eye or bloody nose is not so serious as he has imagined.

By next spring, he said, he hoped that the only American servicemen left in Europe would be the army of occupation which may be smaller than the 400,000 originally intended to do the job. Replacements, he said, should be available for any man who has served in the war unless he desires to remain in Europe.

CHAMPS WARNED TO RISK CROWNS
Paterson, N. J., Aug. 28.—(U.P.) Boxing champions were warned by President Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association today to defend their titles against "legitimate contenders" as soon as possible.

Green did not mention welterweight title holder Freddie (Red) Cochrane of Summit, N.J., by name, but it was regarded significant that his announcement came shortly after Cochrane's second knockout defeat in New York by Rocky Graziano in non-title competition.

"With many fighting men returning to ring wars from the battlefronts it is time boxing leaders take steps to provide a firm foundation for the bonanza that is just around the corner," Greene said.

TO BE RELEASED
Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—(U.P.) Lt. Sam Chapman, who went from the University of California football team to an outfield berth with the Philadelphia Athletics, will be released from the navy in a few days at San Diego, club officials said today.

VOISELLE TURNS IN FINE HURLING TO THUMP PHILS

New York, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—When the story of the 1945 baseball season is written, the sad case of Bill Voiselle and the consequent collapse of the Giants as pennant contenders will be a major part of the script.

What happened to Voiselle, the big likable hurler from Ninety Six, S. C., is one of baseball's biggest mysteries and patient sleuthing by Manager Mel Ott hasn't provided even a first class clue.

Stops Phils
Ever hopeful, Ott must wonder today if Voiselle's brilliant 4 to 0, three-hit shutout last night over the Phils at Philadelphia may not be the turning point. Discounting that he beat the tail-enders, it must be emphasized that his pitching had all the fire and diversity and the curves and cunning that made him a 1944 star. The Giants also won the second game, 6 to 2.

The three hits he allowed last night were all singles. He walked only two batters and struck out five. Rookie Sal Maglie, up less than two weeks from Jersey City, made it a big night for the Giants by winning the second game. It was his third victory against one loss.

Browns Win Fifth
Veteran Lefty Al (Boots) Hollingsworth in a relief chore against the White Sox, won his sixth straight game and gave the Browns their fifth in a row, 8 to 7. The Browns, now victors in 19 out of 24 games, showed their mettle by coming from behind to score three runs in the seventh after Chicago had gone in front with a six run rally in its half of the inning. The victory put St. Louis two and a half games behind the second place Senators.

There were no other major league games scheduled.

Olivera Gets Draw With Luis Castillo
San Francisco, Aug. 28.—(U.P.) Tony Olivera, San Francisco, fought a vigorous 15-round draw last night with Luis Castillo, Mexico City, to retain his state bantam-weight championship.

The decision was noisily booed by the crowd. The United Press score sheet showed four rounds for Olivera, five for Castillo and the rest even.

Castillo was the aggressor throughout, rocking Olivera with rights and lefts to the stomach and sending him to the canvas for a nine count in the third.

Titian-haired Ann Dawson, of Hillsboro, has been selected MISS FAIRWAY to rule over the second annual Portland Open Golf tournament, scheduled for the Portland Golf Club from September 27 to 30. Robert A. Hudson will again sponsor the event with prize money of $14,333.

GERMANS TO GET CHANCE TO FORM OWN GOVERNMENT
Frankfurt, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—Germans in the American-occupied zone of the Reich will get every chance to develop their own democratic way of life.

Donald R. Heath, director of the United States group control commission on political affairs, urged American military government officers yesterday to support any German civilian political activity in the future designed to establish a democratic governmental system.

Heath, addressing a three-day military government meeting at American force headquarters, said: "The real importance of this decision (The Potsdam agreement to encourage political activity) lies in its connection with a hope—fantastic or not—that a German political system may be established which will be democratic in character and lasting in effect."

Heath warned, however, that Germany was still a menace to world security and must be watched carefully.

Rogue River Guide Service is Opened
Paul B. Young, formerly connected with the Young Drug Store in Medford, announced today the opening of the Rogue River Guide Service with headquarters in the Del Rogue Hotel at Grants Pass.

Along with other guide service on the Rogue river, Young will feature a five day trip down to the mouth of the stream.

Most of the October and November reservations have been taken, Young said, but a few openings are left for September.

SYNDICATE TO BID
San Francisco, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—A California Syndicate has been formed to bid for the purchase of the American President Lines, $75,000,000 Steamship Company being auctioned Sept. 10 by the U. S. Maritime Commission. It was announced today.

Chicago—Willie Adell, 169½, Cleveland, drew with LeRoy Seales, 161, Chicago (4).

PORTLAND READY FOR SAN DIEGO; SUDS FACE SACS

(By United Press)
The Portland Beavers, apparently a cinch to win the Pacific Coast league pennant, will open a series with the alternate hot and cold San Diego Padres Tuesday, while Seattle, in second place by 3½ games, goes to Sacramento to engage the third-place Solons.

The San Francisco Seals, currently in fourth spot, will meet Los Angeles on the Angel's home field, prepared to send their pitching ace, Bob Joyce, to the mound twice during the series if the going gets rough. Joyce has 28 victories under his belt, and his eye is on 35 games won.

Hollywood goes to Oakland to play the Acorns, who have threatened on several occasions to break out of fifth place into the first division, but who now are six games away from fourth place.

The Seattle-Sacramento contests should be worthy of as much attention as any, as the Rainiers turn on the heat in a final effort to knock Portland out of first place in the 31 games remaining this season.

EARLY RETURN OF NYLON STOCKINGS

Washington, Aug. 28.—(U.P.)—Milady's legs could look forward today to renewing their acquaintance with nylon hosiery by Christmas—or even Thanksgiving.

The war production board yesterday removed the last restriction barring the way to full resumption of nylon production for civilians, and predicted their return to retail counters by the holidays.

At the same time WPB removed control from rayon yarns, effective Sept. 30, and ended manufacturing restrictions on riding boots, hiking shoes, leather house slippers and platform "wedgies."
