THE HARMLESSNESS OF BATS

Recently a correspondent asked how he could drive bats out of the attic so he could close a small opening in the roof and keep them out. I suggested that he blaze away at them with an air rifle about dusk till they leave the attic, then close the opening.

Another correspondent has a better answer:

Dear Sir: We kill bats, useful snakes and lizards, useful spiders, dragon flies, useful hawks, owls and other predatory birds and mammals merely because we are afraid of them or don't like them or feel sorry for their prey.

Bats in the United States, most of Mexico and Canada are all insectivorous. There are no fruit bats or vampire (blood lapping) bats in the United States. The bats in the United States carry vermin but not the kind of vermin that will in any way bother humans. Bats carry no bedbugs. (Parade of the Animal Kingdom, p. 536. Hegner, Smithsonian Scientific Series No. 9, p. 320)

Bats eat mosquitoes. Mosquitoes carry parasitic diseases as many soldiers and sailors returning from the Orient with malaria and other such diseases know. Most of our U. S. mosquitoes do not carry malaria, but in some parts of the South the malaria-carrying mosquitoes keep up a pretty serious sickness and death rate from malaria.

It would seem that we ought to encourage the bat, as a useful friend to man. Bats kill lawn moths June bugs, and many other destructive insects. Bats congregate thickest where there are the most insects.

Personally I'd like to have bats nest in the attic if I lived near mosquito-breeding pool.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
Whoa, Lady Bountiful! Here is a list of five service men's wives. Kindly send them copies of your fine booklet, "Preparing for Maternity" and "Brady Baby Book". They are all expecting and I am sure they need just such instruction and advice as you give. (Mrs. A. P. L.)

Answer—Now, Ma'am, I am glad to send you both books with the compliments of this service if somebody, when asking for the booklets, provides stamped envelope or other such device of the service man or his wife. To all other readers the booklets are ten cents each—ten cents folded in a piece of paper, not stuck, stitched or stapled, and enclosed in letter with stamped self address envelope.

Your Bushel of Wheat I am 12 and weigh only 84 pounds fully dressed. Most of my friends weigh 98 or over. May I please have your pamphlet "How to Gain Weight"? (Miss M. A.)

Answer—Girls aged 12 years, 58 inches tall, should weigh 67 pounds. If 60 inches tall, 90 pounds. Pamphlet "How to Gain Weight" available on request—in writing. Enclose stamped envelope bearing your address. Meanwhile, better procure a good supply of plain wheat—no farmer, feed store, seed store—for you must eat some every day, raw or cooked as you like.
