Overseas Packages
September 15 to October 15 are the dates for mailing Christmas packages to men and women in the service without request. Service people liked the food that was sent them last year sealed in tin cans and have asked for more. Miss Marian Farrell, county home demonstration agent reports that Oregon State College extension service will continue to offer the service of sealing tin cans and placing the necessary labels on them for shipment overseas.

The tin cans will be available at a local grocery store and only the sealing will be done at the Extension office.

NORTHWEST FACED BY STRIKE, 60,000 TIMBER WORKERS

Seattle, Aug. 31—(UP)—A strike of more than 60,000 Pacific northwest AFL lumber workers was forecast by union leaders today as the national labor relations board began sorting 30,000 ballots from the first two scheduled strike votes involving Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and northern California workers.

Its office jammed with sacks of ballots received before the deadline last midnight, the NLRB said results of the balloting would not be known until Sept. 6. Union leaders, however, have warned they planned to strike regardless of the outcome, to enforce their demand for 20-cent hourly wage increases.

Ballots now in the hands of the NLRB were cast by workers in 330 northwest lumber companies and the Willamette valley district council in Oregon. A second vote has been called for the Klamath basin in southern Oregon with a Sept. 1 deadline.

Here's New Role for Mighty B-29s

SUICIDE PILOTS WERE YOUNG JAPS WITH NO CHOICE

Yokosuka Naval Base, Aug. 31—(UP)—Specially-trained Japanese suicide pilots were recruited for the highly-advertised "special attack corps" from volunteers and pilots who had no choice in the matter, it was learned today.

Yagyu Naoyuki, reported "most of the volunteers were younger pilots." "They were given special discipline for the suicide jobs along with pilots from units arbitrarily chosen by the high command."

"The people believe that captured Japanese are disgraced if they come home, but I feel sorry for them because they put up a good fight," Naoyuki said. "Intellectuals, however, do not feel this way and would welcome home a Japanese who was captured."

Naoyuki said that towards the end the Japanese were exhausted and felt the war was going against them. They knew they were definitely licked when the big Superfortress raids started in May, he added, and the atomic bomb was the chief reason they quit.

TIRE PRODUCTION COMING YEAR TO BE 66 MILLIONS

Washington, Aug. 31—(UP)—The War Production board today scheduled the production of 66,000,000 passenger and motorcycle tires for 1946.

This would be the highest production of automobile tires in the nation's history. The previous all-time high was 53,000,000 tires in 1941.

WPB said 44,000,000 tires of the 1946 total would be available for civilian replacements and export.

Scalley said New York's fiery mayor was commenting on a subject "he apparently knows nothing about."

He made the statement after reading LaGuardia's comment in Washington D. C., before the senate banking committee that the United States can get enough sugar from islands outside the nation and "shouldn't grow a pound of beet sugar."

WAINWRIGHT AND MACARTHUR MEET

(By United Press)
Gen. Douglas MacArthur shook hands today with Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright who took over Corregidor's defense when MacArthur was ordered out before the fall of the fortress.

CBS Correspondent William J. Dunn reported the meeting at MacArthur's headquarters at the New Grand hotel in Yokohama.

Wainwright, freed from a Japanese prison camp in Manchuria; was rushed by air via Chungking and Manila to be present at the formal surrender ceremony Sunday.

The meeting took place in a private dining room of the hotel where MacArthur and his staff awaited Wainwright's arrival.

"Well, I'm glad to see you," MacArthur said, shaking Wainwright's hand as the emaciated officer walked in. Wainwright, obviously in fine spirits, swallowed momentarily and said "I'm glad to see you, too."

Wainwright was accompanied by Gen. Sir Archibald Percival, British commander at Singapore, also invited to witness the surrender.

INDUSTRY PLANS CIVILIAN GOODS

Washington, Aug. 31—(UP)—Industry expects to produce more civilian goods by the end of the year than it did before the war.

Production Chief J. A. Krug,

He said the reconversion rate right now is better than he expected.

The survey covered 42 of the most important peacetime industries, representing 3,750 manufacturers.
