

Limping Detroit Bengals Defeat Yankees, 10 To 0

New York, Sept. 5—(U.P.)—It was almost quiet enough to hear a bomb drop in the Detroit dressing room, but in all the bedlam following a 10 to 0 victory over the Yankees there wasn't one word about a pennant.

The cheering was for Paul (Dizzy) Trout, whose seven-hit moundcraft silenced the Yankee bats and Hank Greenberg and Roger (Doc) Cramer, whose booming homers paced the 15 hit attack. The victory boosted their lead to two-and-a-half games, widest margin they have enjoyed in nearly three weeks.

Much Back-Slapping
Pennant talk is taboo in a race as tight as the American League stretch drive and besides the Tigers had won only one game in a series of seven. But there was back-slapping, exchanging of compliments, and other evidences of confidence.

Trout's return to form was a big morale booster because the pitching staff is weakened badly for the six remaining games in the all-important series with the Yankees. The big winner, Lefty Hal Newhouser, still is in Detroit with a side injury. Even if he pitches in the series, he may not be in top form.

Alton Benton, a sensation early in the season is in a slump. He failed to finish his last six starts and has gone without a victory since Aug. 6. Little Tommy Bridges, "licked to death" to be back in uniform—"I mean a baseball uniform," injured the long finger on his pitching hand in his first appearance since leaving the army. That spreads the staff pretty thin, leaving only Frank (Stubby) Overmire, Les Mueller, Zeb Eaton, Jim Tobin and George Caster, most of whom are relief pitchers.

Trout Gets Blow
The Tigers made all their hits off starter Allen Gettel. Trout touched off the offensive with a single which drove in the first run. But they could do nothing for three-and-a-half innings against 43-year-old Paul Schreiber, who took over as a Yankee hurler.

The second place Cardinals blew a chance to gain on the leading Cubs in the National when they played to an 8 to 8 tie in 12 innings in their final game of the season with Pittsburgh. The game was called when the Pirates had to leave to catch a train, just before the Cardinals batted in the 12th. The game was wiped from the books since the teams do not meet again.

There were no other major league games.

DORIS HICKSON HURLS TEAM TO 13-6 VICTORY

Behind the steady pitching of 14-year-old Doris Hickson, the Orphans halted the Amazons 13 to 6 in the girls' city softball league last night. Not only did the little left-hander pitch an excellent game by allowing only six hits, but hit four singles out of four trips to the plate to lead her team at bat. The Orphans came up with one home run, five triples, two doubles and nine singles to accumulate 17 hits.

Score:
Orphans 13 17 2
Amazons 6 6 3
D. Hickson and Campbell; Riggs and Hood.

Chicago, Sept. 5—(U.P.)—A scheduled 12-round fight between Ray (Sugar) Robinson and Jake La Motta was postponed from Sept. 12 to Sept. 26 to allow Robinson to recuperate from a back injury.

HOBSON FAVORS SPORT PROGRAM IN ROTARY TALK

The appalling number of men rejected for military service during this war because of physical defects prompted the Army and Navy to stress sports in their training programs. Howard Hobson told members of the Medford Rotary club Tuesday in a luncheon meeting address. The University of Oregon's basketball and baseball coach predicted a great era for sports of all kinds as a result of interest stimulated in wartime sporting activities.

Recently back from Italy where he assisted the Army in a sports program, Hobson told of intense interest in football, baseball, basketball and boxing in the Italian theatre of war. Games were even conducted just behind the front lines, the speaker told Rotarians, and 16 teams participated in final playoffs in a basketball tournament which saw several hundred teams in action.

Following the last war little was done to encourage mass participation in athletics, Hobson said. This time it will be different. Generous use of air travel will facilitate international sport competition, and those who participate will benefit from broadening travel experience.

Oregon's basketball prospects seem bright with all but one of the 1944 squad returning to Oregon. Baseball will be accorded a more important place in the university's sports program with inter-sectional games in prospect.

Hobson spoke at the Ashland Lions club meeting Tuesday night and at the local Kiwanis club at noon today. Tonight he will address the Medford Lions club and is slated to speak at Camp White Thursday. Among the guests at Tuesday's Rotary meeting were U. S. Senator Guy Cordon, State Senator Marshall Cornett of Klamath Falls and Judge Carl Wimberly of Roseburg.

PORTLAND WINS 100TH CONTEST; SUDS SHUT OUT

Portland's Wendell Mosser celebrated his sale to the Philadelphia Athletics Tuesday night with a six-hit pitching performance against Los Angeles that was good for a 2-1 victory.

The triumph won for the Beavers the distinction of being the first team in the Pacific Coast league to win 100 games this season. In addition, Portland extended its league lead to six games over Seattle.

Seattle encountered Floyd Strome, of Oakland, on one of his better nights and as a result they were shut out by the Oaks and their righthander, 5-0, on four hits. San Francisco stayed in the thick of the battle for third place with a 1-0 victory over San Diego behind the huriling of Larry Jansen.

Sacramento remained a half game behind the Seals while trimming Hollywood, 7-3, with two three-run innings.

The Angels took a 1-0 lead in the second frame when Ray Viers and Pitcher Don Osborn put together successive singles with Viers scoring on a wild heave by Mosser.

Shortstop Johnny O'Neill started the Bevos on the road to victory with a single in the
