Pendleton Greets Crowds Swarming To Annual Roundup

Pendleton, Ore., Sept. 12—(AP)—All of the wild freedom of the old west, overlaid with its typical film of grime and glamour, was present today at Pendleton as the city opened its 34th annual roundup.

Local hotel keepers, restaurateurs and round-up officials estimated that opening day crowds tripled the average amount with local townfolk going "all out" to entertain the thousands temporarily housed in a city which boasts a population of some 9,000.

Entries for the $16,800 in prize money were running about 15 per cent heavier than in previous years. Events scheduled for today's round-up show were steer roping, calf roping, bull-dogging and bronc riding.

The win gave the Orphans the second half championship. The two teams meet Thursday night, at 6:45, to determine the league winner.

L. Damon reached first base on an error, went to second on an overthrow at first, and scored the winning count when Louise Edmonds, a pinch-hitter, hit one through second base.

Orphans..... 3 4 2
Community Club..... 2 8 5

Rationing Boards Due For Reduction

Local war price and rationing boards in the Portland OPA district will be reduced from 83 to 65 area price boards by the end of September Harry E. Hearne, assisting OPA board executive, announced today. Medford is not to be affected, according to the statement.

Reorganization and consolidation will continue after September until January 1 when it is anticipated the 65 boards will be reduced about one-half. With gradual termination of rationing programs, the local boards will concentrate largely on price control during the coming year in an effort to head off the inflation which followed the last war, Hearne said.

LOCAL OFFICER SET TO WELCOME MAJ. BOYINGTON

Capt. Roland Rinabarger, Medford, and fellow officers at the Marine Corps Air station, Santa Barbara, Calif., have gone "in training" in preparation for a reunion with Major Gregory "Pappy" Boyington, famous marine corps ace recently released from a Japanese prison camp according to a recent story in The Beam, station news sheet.

Special plans are being made for the happy reunion because

Major Boyington had told his "Black Sheep" squadron: "The Japs will never kill me. You may give me up for dead, but six months after the war I'll meet you boys in the San Diego Tavern." The Beam continued by saying "As news of his dramatic release from a Japanese prison camp fills the front pages, it looks as if 'Pappy' Boyington will be keeping his promise, and two of his boys, Maj. Stanley R. Bailey, group operations officer and Capt. Roland Rinabarger, operations officer of the Hangar No. 2 fighter squadron, are going into training for the reunion."

The article quotes Capt. Rinabarger as saying "lots of the boys just couldn't imagine old 'Pappy' dead."

Capt. Rinabarger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rinabarger, formerly of Medford and now of Roseburg and graduated from Medford high school and Oregon State college before entering the marine corps. He recently returned to this country after extended duty overseas.

Historical Society Would Aid Museum Project In County

Lancaster Pollard, superintendent, from the State Historical Society of Oregon, headquarters in Portland, has arrived in Medford to aid in organization of an Historical Society in Jackson county and to help promote a program already begun by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution to establish an historical museum in the old county court house in Jacksonville.

Also to be used as an historical monument in Jacksonville, and sponsored by the State Society, is the Beekman bank building, first banking institution in the state, Mr. Pollard stated, with maintenance work and supervision to be conducted to a county society, when formed.
