

Double Main Event Tops Armory Mat Card Tonight

TONIGHT'S CARD
Rufus Jones vs. Ernie Piluso.
Jack Lipscomb vs. Georges Dusette.
Tex Porter vs. Gorilla Poggi.

Ernie Piluso, the Portland headlock specialist, will get a chance to square accounts for last week's defeat when he faces Rough Rufus Jones, colored Detroit matman in one half of the double main event of tonight's wrestling card at Medford armory. Jack Lipscomb, coast junior heavyweight champion, will lock grips with powerful Georges Dusette in the other half of the twin offering. A coin will be tossed to determine which match goes on last.

Fued Exists
Considerable bad blood exists between Lipscomb and Dusette since the Hoosier Hot Shot lifted the coveted crown from the Dusette brow in Portland a short time ago. Tonight's tussle will be a non-title shindig but a win will strengthen Dusette's claim that he deserves a chance to regain the diadem.

Piluso has been complaining ever since losing out last week and insisted on the return engagement or no match. Jones readily agreed when approached by Promoter Mack Lillard, claiming he considered Piluso easy pickings.

A number of film personalities now working on filming of "Canyon Passage" at Diamond Lake are expected to attend the matches to watch Tex Porter, former Medford boy who is working in the picture, when he clashes with Gorilla Poggi, newcomer from South America in the opener, starting at 8:30. Porter has improved since his last ring appearance here but will be up against a tough customer in Poggi, who isn't beyond getting rough if the going gets hard, as it is almost certain to do with Porter as an opponent.

FOOTBALL MAKES LOCAL DEBUT IN STADIUM FRIDAY

Football season will open tomorrow night for Medford high school, defending state champions, when they kick off at 8 o'clock on the local turf against Albany high, also making their first start in the 1945 season.

Tornado Coach Al Simpson, who guided the Black Tornado to top of the ladder in state competition last year, said today his club is ready to go and has been polished to a high point for the opening contest. Nearly four full teams have been working out days for the past week getting into condition for another drive for state laurels.

Newcomer Starts
Jim Mottern, young sophomore up from junior high school, will be the only starting player who did not wear the Red and Black last season. He will get a starting summons for the left tackle spot, Simpson said. Bob Watson, who steered the T-formation at quarterback last year, will call plays from fullback. Either Earl Stelle or Jerry Ross will handle the delicate T with Glenn Bostwick and Dazzling Jerry Clark at the halfback posts.

Little is known of Albany, except that they have a turn-out of 80 players and are light but potent. They lost several of last year's lettermen but reportedly found a good club in the huge turn-out.

ANGOTT IN KAYO WIN OVER CHAMP

Pittsburgh, Sept. 20.—(U.P.)—Former Lightweight Champion, Sammy Angott's second comeback campaign was a hundred per cent legitimate today after his smashing technical knockout over N. B. A. title holder Ike Williams in a non-title bout.

The game little guy from Washington, Pa., gained the victory after one minute and one second of the sixth round last night when referee Red Robinson stopped the fight because of an injury Williams had suffered to his left side in the first round. After the fight, Williams was taken to Mercy hospital for X-rays.

The fight, a charity promotion of the Dapper Dan club, provided fans with an exhibition highlight, a three-round bout between Cpl. Billy Conn, the num-

MARY SCHILDER WEISSEND EARNS RECIPE AWARD

SO-O-O-O BIG were the Leg O' Mutton sleeves worn by Mrs. Mary Schilder Weissend in 1895. And so-o-o-o good were her bakings! For 1895 was the year she started making golden-crustured hotbreads; light, fluffy cakes and flaky-crustured pies with Sperry Drifted Snow Flour.

AN EXPERT JUDGE of good bakings and good recipes is Mrs. Mary Schilder Weissend of San Francisco. Long famous for her own homemade bakings, she smiles her approval of Martha Meade's Raised Nut Gems, knowing that western homemakers will welcome this fast, new unusual hotbread. Sperry's Martha Meade cited Mrs. Weissend for her 56 years of loyalty in using Sperry Drifted Snow Flour, by dedicating this new recipe to her.

Du Pont PARMONE

TRADE MARK

Pre-Harvest Fruit Drop Inhibitor Keeps Pears and Apples on the Trees for Maximum Size, Color and Quality

Give your pears and apples those extra "days of grace"—and quality ripening—that come just before harvest. Du Pont "Parmone" liquid concentrate reduces pre-harvest drop from one to three weeks.

"Parmone" delays the weakening of the joint between the fruit stem and spur—lets the fruit hang on for full normal ripening. However, "Parmone" does not prevent the normal ripening of fruit, and the fruit must be picked at the proper stage of maturity. This applies particularly to Bartlett pears and certain apples.

For best results application should be delayed until the beginning of fruit drop—but not too long. "Timing" is important. For advice on "Parmone" liquid concentrate, see your Du Pont dealer and local fruit authorities.
