Gen. Patton apologizes for comparing Nazis in Germany to Republicans and Democrats in America.

He only slapped 46,000 voters with a ten-pound dictionary, instead of the bare hand, as in Sicily.

People are breaking out of jail, as well as into same, with unusual briskness.

The first named is due to the draft law losing most its teeth, and the second to the coming of winter.

The normal Main Stem hub-bub several times this week, has been subdued to an insignificant squeak by a freight truck, two logging trucks, and a motorcycle, all starting up at the same time, while an army bomber roared overhead.

Astronomers estimate there are 200-billion stars. This seems like enough stars for the present.

THIS IS CHINA (Press Dispatch)

"It is wealth and poverty and color and drabness. It is a place where the poor laugh more than the rich because all life holds for them is a laugh and a meal—and there are more laughs than meals."

Atty. H. Bengtson, Jack. co. colon, whose right foot was stepped on by Andy Devine's horse, with Andy on it, is again proceeding at his normal gait.

This is the worst thing that has happened to the human hoof hereabouts since 1933, when during the progress of a young revolution on the chess lawn, law and order was maintained by a "Friend of the Forgotten Man," accidentally dropping a 50-pound Bible on the pet bunion of a "power trust puppet."

On the week-end football menu for the coming week-end is one high school contest looms that promises to rub the civic fur of two burgs the wrong way.

The powerful (at home) Klamath Falls Pelicans and the Salem Vikings of the powerful "No Name" league crush, crash, and take up against each other. The result will be vital for the victor, if any. It will be the last game either one wins this season.

Argentina is now in the throes of an uprising. As the result of the rising up one of the strong men of Argentina is in a strong jail.

MUCH ADO, ETC., ETC. (N.Y. Herald-Tribune)

"The first attempt of the Council of Foreign Ministers to deal with the grave issues of world reconstruction has yielded all the edifying results of a group of 5-year-olds squabbling over the division of a chocolate bar."

Due next Monday is October—the month of brown October ale and nuts. The former will be full of the latter and driving an auto accordingly.

"MAN ALIVE"

"If you flatter a man, it frightens his to death, and if you don't, you bore him to the same end."

If you are the clinging vine type, he wonders if you have a heart. And if you are happily midway between the two, he wonders if you can cook.

If you wear red nail polish, rouge, and a rakish hat, he hesitates to take you, but if you wear your little blue hat and no nail polish, he takes you out and proceeds to stare at a woman wearing red nail polish, rouge and a rakish hat.

My conclusion is men are funny people." — (Oakland (Cal.) Tribune).

Closing time for Sunday too late. Classified 4.00 Saturday afternoon. Please remember.

New York, Sept. 27.—This will be another little lesson on the power of a few hundred boss unionists over all those Americans—some say sixty millions of us—who work for our living. If you are willing to let some goon run off your job with a tire iron don't bother to study up on your problem. But when it happens to you or that young man with the purple heart, don't be writing letters to the editor asking "Can such things be?"

I recently told you about some manufacturers of electrical equipment who were barred from New York City by a conspiracy between local 3 of the electricians' union of the A.F.L. and a combination of local manufacturers and contractors. This was no contest between underpaid and down-trodden workers and a bunch of soulless corporations. The workers in the out-of-town factories were union men, too, many of them members of the same A.F.L. electricians but in their home town locals.

THE OUT-OF-TOWN manufacturers sued in the federal court for an injunction back in 1935. John Kirkland Clark, a special master, held long hearings and decided in favor of the plaintiffs. The supreme court recently upheld him. However, the supreme court did not object to the boycott, as such. The court condemned it only because local 3 did not act by itself or in combination with other unions that would have been legal under Roosevelt justice, regardless of the cost to the public in higher building prices, higher rents for new apartments and higher taxes to pay for public buildings containing such electrical equipment. Any mob of racketeers holding a charter from the A.F. of L. or the CIO may exclude from New York goods manufactured by the labor of war veterans living in, say, Ohio because the supreme court has held that if unions act strictly in their own interest they may collect import taxes at state and municipal borders and even resort to downright high-

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

Washington, Sept. 27.—The local sect of officials who have been developing a theory that peace can be obtained only by giving things to Russia and Britain and making them happy is now in meditative silence, momentarily at least. Mr. Truman quieted the cabinet dispute about giving the atomic bomb to Russia by personally assuming responsibility for a future decision. He also carefully fended off the ton of brickbats already in full flight toward the skull of Commerce Secretary Wallace by saying Mr. Wallace had not "insisted" upon the gift, but he did not say Wallace had not advocated such a course.

atomic bomb to Russia by personally assuming responsibility for a future decision. He also carefully fended off the ton of brickbats already in full flight toward the skull of Commerce Secretary Wallace by saying Mr. Wallace had not "insisted" upon the gift, but he did not say Wallace had not advocated such a course.

MY well-chaired informants say this means Russia does not get the bomb, at least not now, and not ever for sheer appeasement purposes. Why should she? What justifies such a gift? To what use does she propose to put the bomb? Certainly not to bring the four freedoms to the Balkans, Poland and Finland or anywhere. Indeed not to promote any Truman international policies or purposes expressed at the London council of ministers. All our ideas were firmly turned down by Molotov, according to reports the same day at the cabinet meet. What good use could she thus possibly make of the bomb?

But more, I suspect the whole school of Wallace thought of peace by appeasement is breaking up. More officials here think we ought to get something in return for giving. They want to make appeasement sound, by making it two-sided. They would like to see us win some points somewhere before doling out the money as well as the bomb.

THE dicker over the money for Britain has taken a half-right turn in that direction. Lords Keynes and Halifax came in for their billions (without interest) with hats upended, ready to carry it away.

Unfortunately they had left at home all their experts on empire preference tariffs discriminating against us and such related trade matters which might afford us an opportunity to get something. Will Clayton, head of our delegation, said no business could be talked without these men. So these experts are now on their way from Lon-

The Only Way Out To the editor: Now that the fantasia of settling our selfish disputes by war, has also exploded. The big problem now is how to prevent war. All seem to agree that force is the only remedy, and are planning to try to be that force.

If they all pursue that policy it should make a war to end all wars, and humanity as well. From this time on no man, state or nation, can safely be allowed without control.

The big problem is to have a world restraining power without danger of tyranny.

While humanity has great variances it does have some vital things in common. "Food and shelter are necessary to life. There are two common utilities necessary to life and happiness without the aid of which war or the atomic bomb could not be produced.

Let there be organized a world co-operative to furnish these two necessary services, impartially. If we have not the intelligence, integrity and sense of justice to create such an organization, the Creator had better admit failure, let the atom do its stunt, clear the rubbish, and make a new start.

Such an organization would not only make war impossible, but would remove most of the causes of war, making boundary lines and nationalism unimportant. The two utilities to be made universally cooperative are commercial transportation and a medium of exchange. With all water, land, and air ways under one management, in service for all peoples, it would settle the squabble just ahead for rights in the air in the only way it can ever be settled. By fixing a classified wage and paying the same wage with the same currency in all countries it would aid to stabilize labor and unify wages, thus relieving the need of trade barriers.

This plan need not interfere with any local governments or mode of living.

By the economy of cooperation and eliminating the cost of armed forces, the cost of living

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Our town has heroes, too

Over at Hittle Ridge they're always boasting about their local heroes—ancestors in the Revolutionary War, congressmen, and an artist with pictures in the Metropolitan Museum.

Well, we've got our local heroes, too...

There was old Doc Turner, who fought for years against the intolerance and bigotry that kept children from being vaccinated in our county.

And Deacon Follensby, who fought for free pews in the churches; Jess Hackney, who campaign for teaching honest history in schools; Wedd Towers, who fought the encroachment of Prohibition in our county and persuaded folks they wanted tolerance and moderation in place of a return to lawlessness.

You won't find monuments to these folks. But from where I sit, they're heroes in a cause that's pretty sacred in our town: the cause of freedom, tolerance, and human dignity.

would be reduced at least one-half.

The three big powers have the facilities to inaugurate this service, and the "economic and social council" of the United Nations is the agency to do the organizing. It is now up to the people. Good cheap transportation and a universal currency are the greatest stimulant to commerce, and the life blood to civilization. Surplus moved to place of need is much better than destruction or repression.

Post-War Highway Contract Award Is Slated For Oct. 29

Salem, Ore., Sept. 27.—(U.P.)—Tentative plans have been made by the Highway commission to award the first contracts for Oregon's three year, $36,000,000 post war highway building program at a meeting to be held in Portland, Oct. 29.

However, the contracts cannot be awarded until congress authorizes states to begin the program. Highway Engineer R. H. Baldock said congress is expected to give the go-ahead signal next week.

The commission expects to award $2,000,000 worth of contracts to start the program and an additional $10,000,000 in contracts this winter. The program calls for an expenditure of $12,000,000 yearly.

U. S. Casualties Now 1,070,672

Washington, Sept. 27.—(U.P.)—U. S. Casualties in World War II were computed today at 1,070,672.

This was a reduction of 594 from the total computed a week ago, due chiefly to adjustments in the missing category.

The total included 260,386 dead, 651,964 wounded, 34,050 missing and 124,272 prisoners.

Both the army and the navy recorded decreases in their overall casualty total from last week. The army figure dropped 47 and the navy total 547.

An additional 1,468 army, navy and marine corps personnel from Pacific fighting fronts will dock at the Alameda naval air station on two smaller carriers, the Thetis Bay and the Admiral-ty Islands.

PIN-WORM ITCH MAY THREATEN YOUR CHILD'S HEALTH

Don't let your child suffer a single needless minute of distress with Pin-Worms!

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong. So watch out for the warning signs—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it!

A highly effective way to deal with this nagging infection has now been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug known as mebendazole. This special drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So, if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, get a box of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions. Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!
