G.I.'s Sent From Europe To Pacific Wonder Why Deferred War Workers Can't Be Given Taste of Army Duty

September 17, 1945, Luzon Island, Philippine Islands.

To the Editor: I am writing on behalf of myself and all the others in our present situation. Most of us have spent nearly or more than three years in the service of our country. Not only did we take part in the European Theatre, but were sent immediately after V-E day to where we are at present, the South Pacific.

All of us were very much willing to sacrifice our lives if need be to insure permanent peace throughout the world. We all have lost some of our closest and best buddies, and you can believe us when we say that wasn't easy.

When the war broke out, the people at home were willing to have us come overseas, and now that it is over and these areas are once more safe, the people at home are now forgetting about us. Our only chance to get to our loved ones and our children we haven't seen, is to have some one replace and relieve us of our duties here. The government is asking for volunteers for this, but I don't remember them asking us if we wanted to go. Many of us were taken from our schooling at a young age to serve our country for as long as need be. We have served, and faithfully, but now the war is over and we want to come home. Most of us feel that a compulsory military training will hurt no one, but add to their lives experience and knowledge.

We are noticing the numerous strikes and labor troubles that are occurring in the states. It is very disheartening to hear of these things when all along we have been fighting just to keep from these very things. I wonder if the people at home ever stopped to realize the conditions and circumstances that have prevailed with us.

When we finally return, we will have to pay the same amount of taxes as the others at home will. While we have been earning very small wages, war workers have been making and saving nice little sums of cash. Why not give us a chance to earn some of this easy money, and let them take our places ever here. Thousands above the age of twenty-six were deferred because of being essential to the war effort. Well, the war has come to an end so why not get the draft boards busy and let them serve a couple of years in the army. Our menning of above twenty-six are the men from eighteen through twenty-six.

I wonder if the people at home know what it is to eat meals out of a tin can, half the time not heated, or to sleep in the mud and rain and to fight off bugs and vermin of every sort. To work and be ready at all times of the day and night to take care of the obstacles that might occur. It wasn't easy, but it had to be done by someone. This is a peoples war, not the individuals, and all we ask is that we be given a little consideration and help in our return home.

I would appreciate it immensely if you would find a small place in your paper for our article. If you do decide to print it the boys would, and I mean really would, like to see a copy of the edition it is printed in. It will give the people an idea of the conditions we have had to endure and also help to bring out our feelings that the War Department for some odd reason seems to be keeping from the public.

Minger Is First Enlisted in Army

Raymond E. Minger of Medford, first applicant accepted for service in the regular army since reopening of the army recruiting station in the post office building here, left last week for Portland where he was to be sworn in. He is to be assigned to the air corps in the central Pacific overseas theater, according to Sgt. Kleinsmith, in charge of the recruiting station.

Choice of arm, branch of service and overseas and United States station assignments are given men volunteering for the regular army, the sergeant said, also reenlistment furlough, bonus for veterans.

Klamath Falls, Where Fortune Calls

Yet Medford seems like my home town—born in the shadows of its mountains. My sister, Mrs. Earhart lives at Hornbrook.

Under the set-up of "Procurement and Assignment of Physicians" I have served in this war one year in Portland and two years in Medford. I was Commissioned First Lieutenant in War One.

HOSPITALIZATION HAS BEEN DENIED MY PATIENTS and I cannot serve to the end of six months following duration.

I will close my office at 201 Medford Center Bld'g Oct. 6th.

Next spring I will open offices in down-town Klamath Falls. Till then I saw and polish thunder eggs, gold mine, authorship, finish building over hot Artesian well and other hobbies. At home I have a 100 gallon per minute, 204 degree, 8-ft. spouting well. Water boils at 207 in Klamath.

POINT REWARD FOR USED FATS DOUBLED

4 points instead of 2 for every pound!

EVERY one of you housewives in America, in your own kitchen, can speed the return of larger supplies of soaps and all the peacetime things you have been waiting for so long. You can do it by saving more used fats... every drop you can scrape or skim. It's as urgently needed as ever. So keep doing it, won't you?

You women of America have done a magnificent job of saving used fats during the war, but victory has not ended the need. The fat supply for the manufacture of soap and other long-wanted products is millions of pounds less in 1945 than it was in 1944. That is why the government offers four ration points instead of two for every pound of used fats you turn in.

By skimming, scooping and scraping every last drop of used fat, you can help increase your own home supplies of soaps, soap flakes and powders more quickly. And not only soaps. But the nylons, cottons, electric washers, irons, refrigerators, automobiles and hundreds of other peacetime products we've all been waiting for.

The fats saved in your kitchen are urgently needed to help get peacetime goods back into production... and back to you... more quickly. So won't you keep up the good work even though the war is over? You'll help to fill your own needs for soaps and the civilian goods you're dreaming of. Remember, every drop of used fat is still vitally important. Keep saving, won't you?

Your Used Fats help make the Peacetime Products You Want
