

PEGLER IS SUED FOR 12 MILLION IN LIBEL ACTION

Chicago, Oct. 3—(U.P.)—Two libel suits were on file here today asking $12,000,000 from Westbrook Pegler, the Kings Feature Syndicate, Inc., and the Illinois Publishing and Printing company, for allegedly intimating that A. N. Spanel, president of the International Labor corporation was a communist.

Plaintiffs in the case were Spanel and the Latex corporation. The first suit, filed in federal court, asked $6,000,000 from Pegler and the printing company, publishers of the Chicago Herald-American. The second suit, asking a similar amount from Kings Features, was filed in Cook county circuit court. Both were filed yesterday.

Plaintiffs Suffer
The petitions said the plaintiffs suffered "public suspicion, hatred, contempt and financial injury" from Pegler's column of March 15, 1945, made a part of the record—which said in part:

"X X X periodically, since 1939, the International Latex company of Latex Park, Dover, Del., has been running political

BRITISH AND JAPS FIGHT ANNAMITES

Saigon, French Indo-China, Oct. 1 (Delayed)—(U.P.)—British and Japanese troops fought two pitched battles against rebellious Annamite forces in the Saigon area last night and scattered fighting was reported continuing today.

The heaviest fighting occurred along the Chinoi river, where the Annamites, using machine guns, tried to seize a British-held power station. The rebels were driven off after a four-hour battle.

Japanese troops stationed in the northern end of Saigon ran into stiff opposition around the same time when they began clearing out native centers of resistance in the Rue Paul Blanche district.

Fog Dispeller For Air Fields Costly Arcata Use Proves

Eureka, Cal., Oct. 3—(U.P.)—The development of "fido"—fog intensive, disposal of—at Arcata naval air station was revealed by the navy today after being kept a war secret for the past year and a half.

Developed to make a "hole in the fog" for landing planes, the navy's mark 5 fog dispersal units operate by running gas through a dozen two inch pipes along the edge of the landing field. Burning gas in a lower pipe heats the gas in the pipes above, condensing it to a vapor, which, when ignited gives off intense heat that eliminates the fog hazard.

This method, known as the thermo (heat) method has proved invaluable to Britain's RAF, but is fabulously expensive with costs coming to between $4,000 and $5,000 to land one plane.

Jimmy Stewart To Resume Film Work And Remain Single

Hollywood, Oct. 3—(U.P.)—Col. Jimmy Stewart came home from the war today and said he wanted to forget about "all this hero stuff" as soon as possible and get back to making a living as a movie actor.

The gangling screen actor, who sneaked off the train at Pasadena to avoid the Union station crowds, said the one other thing he was sure about was that he planned to remain a bachelor.

"All I want to do now is get back to work," said the slow-talking star, who took a $1,435 weekly pay cut to join the army as a buck private right after he won an academy "oscar."

Ultra Short-Wave Radio Seen As End For Long Distance Telephone Wires

San Francisco, Oct. 3—(U.P.)—The army today let the public in on another of its "secret weapons"—a highly-mobile ultra short-wave directional radio transmitter which in peacetime may eliminate the need for long distance telephone wires.

During the war more than 10,000 of the transmitters—named AN TRC for army navy transportable radio communications—weighing less than 300 pounds and capable of keeping up with the fastest moving motorized troops, helped speed American invasion forces in Africa, Europe and the Pacific.

The army now plans to use an improved model in the occupation of Japan, meanwhile carrying out a series of tests to determine maximum effective range of the radio phone and iron out remaining bugs.

BOND REDEMPTION OUTSTRIPS SALES

Washington, Oct. 3—(U.P.)—September war bond redemptions were greater than bond purchases, treasury statements through Sept. 27 showed today.

Redemptions through Sept. 27 totaled $505,000,000. Purchases were $454,000,000.

A war finance division spokesman pointed out, however, that the figures did not allow for the last three days of the month. He said sales are always heavy at the close of the month and may alter the final accounting considerably.
