WOOL ARRIVES FOR KNITTING BY RED CROSS UNIT

Five hundred pounds of O.D. wool have arrived at the office of the Jackson County Red Cross office, to be made into 320 sleeveless sweaters and 400 "walking cast" socks according to Mrs. A. Orin Schenck, production chairman. Experimental knitters are urged to call at once at the office in the courthouse for the yarn and for directions, either from Mrs. Schenck or Mrs. Nelle Winne, knitting supervisor.

The "walking cast" socks are the first of the kind to be made by Jackson county knitters and are to be used for amputation cases in military hospitals, it is stated.

Two hundred pounds of navy wool are expected soon.

Mrs. Schenck states that the production unit faces an unusually heavy demand for workers this fall and winter and she urges all 50 county units to reorganize to meet this increased need. Eight cartons of finished articles were shipped from the production department last week, she reports.

This Tokyo Signpost Is Real Thing

(Acme Telephoto) At a crossroad in Yokohama. Pfc. Lester F. Vincent, Rittman, O., and Pfc. Simon Dumont, Amesbury, Mass., direct traffic. One arrow in English, points to the air strip where Americans made their first landing, another to Tokyo.

Kirschner wrote. "They were so beautifully made we want to express our appreciation to you and ask that you convey our thanks to your workers. It is gratifying to know so much effort is put into the making of these garments, and we are proud to issue them."

unounced today. Available at present, to veterans only, are army type four-wheel drive half-ton weapon carriers and one and one-half ton cargo carriers, it was stated.

R. W. Vaux, sales officer for the surplus properties division, states that veterans interested should call at the ordnance shop by Oct. 10, with veterans' identification papers, if they are interested in purchasing the vehicles. Jeeps and other types of vehicles will be placed on sale later, Vaux stated.

Experiment flights prove that highly perishable commodities such as sea foods, fruits and vegetables may be flown by air express to active markets, thus supplying one-day-old foods to every section of the United States with a negligible percentage of loss, according to the Railway Express Agency.

REALTY LECTURES TO START MONDAY

A series of lectures covering a number of subjects of interest to those engaged in the real estate business will be given in Medford this fall by the Oregon Association of Real Estate Boards in cooperation with the Medford Realty Board according to Carl Y. Tengwald, president of the local group.

First of the series will be given Monday at the armory at 7:30 p. m. "Titles and Conveyancing" will be the subject, with Neil Davidson, president of the Jackson County Abstract company, in charge of the program.

Tengwald states that all brokers and salesmen should attend the lectures, and those intending to sell real estate and others interested are cordially invited to attend.

OFFER VETERANS ARMY VEHICLES

In order to facilitate sales of certain surplus vehicles to veterans, representatives of the U.S. Department of Commerce, office of surplus properties, are at the army ordnance command shop on the South Pacific highway for the next several days, it was announced today.

MARINES ACCEPTING NEW ENLISTMENTS

The Marine Corps recruiting office in Portland has announced that enlistments are now being accepted in the regular Marines for either a three-year or period. Prior to this time, only four-year enlistments have been offered.

Further information regarding a career with the Marines may be obtained from the recruiting office Room 208, New U. S. Courthouse Building in Portland. Upon presentation of a birth certificate—and consent papers in the case of 17-year-olds—applicants who meet the mental and physical requirements will be enlisted and sent immediately to San Diego for seven weeks of boot camp training.
